Going Bananas

- When fully grown, the stem of the banana plant can be from 10 to 40 feet tall. It can have leaves that are 10 feet long.

- Banana stems are annual. That means they die after producing fruit, but new stems sprout up from buds within the roots, which are perennial.
- Bananas are native to Southeast Asia, but they are now grown in all tropical countries.
- The average weight of an entire bunch of bananas from one plant is about 25 pounds.

- Other parts of the banana plant are rich in fiber. The fiber can be used to make paper and rope.

The facts above describe banana plants. Write the information that tells:

- how they grow _____
- where they grow _____
- how much the fruit weighs _____

Perencevich,Allyson L. Kett,2007-09-23 From Principles of Learning to Strategies for Instruction Part One The purpose of this book is to help educators and training developers to improve the quality of their instruction Unlike other available works the text is not limited to a particular theoretical position Nor is it like many of the instructional design texts which ignore the learning literature Rather it draws upon any and all of those research based principles regardless of learning theory which suggest heuristics to guide instructional strategies The approach of the authors is unique in that they develop a framework or model taxonomy for tasks through which the principles of learning can be related to particular learning processes suggesting distinctive strategies for specific instructional tasks The authors present a four stage model that includes acquisition automaticity near term transfer and far term transfer Workbook Companion Part Two In this Workbook Companion the strategies presented in the original book are expanded by supplying practical and specific strategies to implement of a variety of other subject matters These strategies are based on the needs which the authors currently see and cite in existing educational systems Each chapter concentrates on providing recommended instructional strategies and practical exercises for a specific target group high school age adolescents Contributors supply strategies in the different learning domains including Cognitive Psychomotor Affect and Interpersonal and each individual is responsible for training teachers developing and or evaluating curricula for such training and educating high school students through the development and implementation of curricula Developed for both new and experienced teachers developing curricula for high school adolescents the goal of the Workbook Companion is to provide those in the field of education with strategies to incorporate each of the four domains into their lesson plans regardless of subject area      Science in Action 4 Sue Harris,2004-02 Full coverage of the QCA Scheme of Work for Science in a copiable book for Year 4 pupils age 8 to 9 Lesson plans copiable pupil activities assessment tests and extension activities are included Great value Full coverage of KS1 QCA Scheme of Work Fully photocopiable A whole years work included in each book Extension activities Assessment tests Lesson plans      An Introductory Guide to EC Competition Law and Practice Valentine Korah,1994      From Principles of Learning to Strategies for Instruction Robert J. Seidel,Kathleen C. Perencevich,Allyson L. Kett,2006-05-28 The primary goal of instructional design is improving the quality of learning and instruction Instructional designers have focused on a number of areas of critical concern and developed a variety of techniques to achieve this goal Reigeluth 1983 1999 Critical areas of concern for those who plan implement and manage instruction include a needs assessment identifying gaps or deficiencies in knowledge and performance to be addressed in instruction b task analysis identifying the types of knowledge skills and attitudes to be developed during instruction c learner analysis determining who the learners are what they know relevant differences etc d instructional strategies developing strategies appropriate for the task and learners involved and e assessment and evaluation determining how to assess individual progress and evaluate programs There are many books already in print that treat the general domain of instructional design as well as texts that target each of these areas of concerns Why then another book on these issues There are several answers to this question Many of the available books treat instruction as a formal process that proceeds according to specific and detailed instructional systems development models see for example Dick Carey Carey 2005 Indeed the US military has created a series of handbooks specifying details of the various instructional development processes see Department of Defense 1999 Environment Regulation Handbook ,1973 New Complete Geography Ralph Stockman Tarr,1918 Summary of Operations, California Oil Fields California.
