

JOURNAL ENTRIES CHEAT SHEET

GUIDE TO JOURNAL ENTRIES

DOUBLE-ENTRY BOOKKEEPING

Double-entry bookkeeping is a system of accounting that uses double entries to record transactions. Each transaction is recorded in two accounts: one as a debit and one as a credit. This system ensures that the accounting equation (Assets = Liabilities + Equity) is always balanced.

JOURNAL ENTRY

A journal entry is a record of a business transaction. It is written in a journal, which is a book or a computer file. Each entry includes the date, a description of the transaction, and the amounts of the accounts affected.

DEBITS & CREDITS

Debits and credits are the two sides of a journal entry. Debits are recorded on the left side of the entry, and credits are recorded on the right side. The total debits must always equal the total credits.

ADJUSTING ENTRIES

Adjusting entries are journal entries that are used to adjust the accounts at the end of an accounting period. They are used to record accruals, deferrals, and depreciation.

REVERSING ENTRIES

Reversing entries are journal entries that are used to reverse the effect of an adjusting entry. They are used to reset the accounts for the next accounting period.

CLOSING ENTRIES

Closing entries are journal entries that are used to close the accounts at the end of an accounting period. They are used to transfer the balances of the temporary accounts (revenues, expenses, and dividends) to the permanent accounts (assets, liabilities, and equity).

ACCOUNTING CYCLE

The accounting cycle is a series of steps that are used to record and summarize the transactions of a business. It consists of eight steps: 1. Identify the business transactions, 2. Record the transactions in the journal, 3. Post the transactions to the ledger, 4. Prepare a trial balance, 5. Adjust the accounts, 6. Prepare financial statements, 7. Close the accounts, and 8. Prepare a post-closing trial balance.
