Journals Impact Factor :

The Impact Factor of Scientific and Scholarly Journals Tibor Braun, 2007      Does the Journal Impact Factor Help Make a Good Indicator of Academic Performance? Sudhanshu K. Mishra, 2010

Is journal impact factor a good measure of research merit This question has assumed a great importance after the notification of the University Grants Commission Minimum Qualifications for Appointment of Teachers and other Academic Staff in Universities and Colleges and Measures for the Maintenance of Standards in Higher Education Regulations 2009 on September 23rd 2009 Now publication of research papers articles in reputed journals has become an important factor in assessment of the academic performance of teachers in colleges and universities in India One of the measures of reputation and academic standard rank or importance of a journal is the so called Impact Factor This study makes a detailed statistical analysis of Journal Impact Factors across the disciplines It finds that if journal impact factor is used to assess the academic performance of individuals for the purpose of selection promotion etc and it is not borne in mind that due to vast differences in the nature of distribution of impact factors across the disciplines they are not justifiably comparable a below average scholar in the one discipline will rank higher and will be honored and benefitted more than another scholar in some other discipline wherein the journal impact factor is adversely skewed It may be noted that in the university departments there are specializations with low impact factor journals and other specializations with very high impact factor journals But the teachers researchers of different specializations in the departments compete with each other for promotion In this milieu the researchers with an unfortunate specialization wherein the journal impact factor is mingy or adversely skewed would receive injustice is plainly predetermined Therefore a measure such as the h index which quantifies the quality as well as productivity of an individual author scholar would be more appropriate than the journal impact factor The h index may be fine tuned and hence the g index or Tol s index may be used Nevertheless even the h index and the Tol s index would not be appropriate to the purpose of inter disciplinary or inter specialization comparisons A more informed and balanced judgment of the expert committee for selection appointment and promotion purposes will continue to be extremely important

Science Dynamics and Research Production Nikolay K. Vitanov, 2016-08-01 This book deals with methods to evaluate scientific productivity In the book statistical methods deterministic and stochastic models and numerous indexes are discussed that will help the reader to understand the nonlinear science dynamics and to be able to develop or construct systems for appropriate evaluation of research productivity and management of research groups and organizations The dynamics of science structures and systems is complex and the evaluation of research productivity requires a combination of qualitative and quantitative methods and measures The book has three parts The first part is devoted to mathematical models describing the importance of science for economic growth and systems for the evaluation of research organizations of different size The second part contains descriptions and discussions of numerous indexes for the evaluation of the productivity of researchers and groups of researchers of different size up to the comparison of research productivities of research communities of nations Part three contains discussions of non Gaussian laws connected to scientific productivity and presents various deterministic and stochastic models of science dynamics and research productivity The book shows that many famous fat tail distributions as well as many deterministic and stochastic models and processes which are well known from physics theory of extreme events or population dynamics occur also in the description of dynamics of scientific systems and in the description of the characteristics of research productivity This is not a surprise as scientific systems are nonlinear open and dissipative

Multidimensional Journal Evaluation Stefanie Haustein,2012-04-26 Scientific communication depends primarily on publishing in journals The most important indicator to determine the influence of a journal is the Impact Factor Since this factor only measures the average number of citations per article in a certain time window it can be argued that it does not reflect the actual value of a periodical This book defines five dimensions which build a framework for a multidimensional method of journal evaluation The author is winner of the Eugene Garfield Doctoral Dissertation Scholarship 2011

Journal of the American Society for Information Science ,1985    Indian Journal of Malariology ,1990    Scientific Writing for Impact Factor Journals Eric Lichtfouse,2013 Publish or Perish This old adage illustrates the importance of scientific communication essential to research it also represents a strategic sector for each country's competitiveness. An often neglected topic, scientific communication is of vital importance with new information technologies accelerating and profoundly changing how knowledge is disseminated. The necessity of optimally disseminating experts' findings has also become crucial to researchers, institutes and universities alike, which has prompted the recent advent of Impact Factors for the evaluation and financing of research, the goal being for scientific knowledge to be equally distributed to a very broad audience, especially to the media, entrepreneurs and sociopolitical players. This handbook presents the golden rules for publishing scientific articles. In order to do away with major recurring errors, the author explains how to easily structure an article and offers support for the typical mistakes made by native French speakers publishing in English, tips on how to make the style more academic or more general to fit your intended readership and in the book's closing section suggests new publishing techniques of the Internet age such as the micro article which allows researchers to focus their findings into a single innovative point. The major principles presented can be applied to a broad range of documents such as theses, industry reports, publicity texts, letters of intent, CVs, resumes, blogs and press releases as all of these documents involve presenting information on advances, discoveries, innovations or changes to our previous knowledge.

Educational Research James B. Schreiber, Kimberly Asner-Self, 2011-08-24. Researchers finally have a resource that focuses on the research question, providing them with a unique approach that will help in the field. Key Ideas sections presented in each chapter act as an organising mechanism and look at the big picture of that chapter. Many of the writing activities are open-ended questions that allow them to write questions or what they are thinking about the topic at that point. In-Text Activities ask them to write down what they are working on, such as a research question, review of literature or potential sample. Case study examples are also integrated throughout to demonstrate how decisions are made and how they affect everything in a study. This enables researchers to create the most effective studies.
