Social Work and Sociology: Historical and Contemporary Perspectives Irene Levin, Marit

Haldar,Aur lie Picot,2018-02-05 Discussing the relationship between social work and sociology this book explores how the two have become more and more divided moving from one single discipline to two separate but related fields Both sociology and social work focus on social problems social structure social integration and how individuals respond to and live within cultural and structural constraints Today both disciplines face the possibility of losing some of their most important characteristics to individualising trends the disappearance of the importance of the social and pressure towards solely evidence based knowledge In addition to casting light on areas that have been in the shadows of the mainstream narrative the contributions to this book will raise new questions contributing to continuing discussions between and within each discipline This book was originally published as a special issue of Nordic Social Work Research     Extreme Intelligence

Sonja Falck,2019-09-30 Extreme intelligence is strongly correlated with the highest of human achievement but also paradoxically with higher relationship conflict career difficulty mental illness and high IQ crime Increased intelligence does not necessarily increase success it should be considered as a minority special need that requires nurturing This book explores the social development and predicaments of those who possess extreme intelligence and the consequent personal and professional implications for them It uniquely integrates insights and knowledge from the research fields of intelligence giftedness genius and expertise with those from depth psychology emphasising the importance of finding ways to talk effectively about extreme intelligence and how it can better be supported and embraced The author supports her arguments throughout reviewing the academic literature alongside representations of genius in history fiction and the media and draws on her own first hand research interviews and consulting work with multinational high IQ adults This book is essential reading for anyone supporting or working with the highly gifted as well as those researching or interested by the field of intelligence     The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research in Psychology Carla Willig,Wendy Stainton

develop a psycho social account of individual organisational and social processes and dynamics The author draws directly upon his own and others lived experience of clinical work organisational stresses and strains social processes and research to generate conceptualised accounts of inner and outer experiential worlds in the hope of mobilising emotional and thinking responses in his readership Conjunctions is therefore intended to be an intervention in modern professional therapeutic and social life as well as a contribution to understanding it      Australian Mothering Carla Pascoe Leahy, Petra

Bueskens, 2020-01-28 This collection defines the field of maternal studies in Australia for the first time Leading motherhood researchers explore how mothering has evolved across Australian history as well as the joys and challenges of being a mother today The contributors cover pregnancy birth relationships childcare domestic violence time use work welfare policy and psychology from a diverse range of maternal perspectives Utilising a matricentric feminist framework Australian Mothering foregrounds the experiences emotions and perspectives of mothers to better understand how Australian motherhood has developed historically and contemporaneously Drawing upon their combined sociological and historical expertise Bueskens and Pascoe Leahy have carefully curated a collection that presents compelling research on past and present perspectives on maternity in Australia which will be relevant to researchers advocates and policy makers interested in the changing role of mothers in Australian society      The Maternal Experience Margo Lowy, 2020-11-29 The Maternal

Experience explores the powerful and dynamic nature of maternal ambivalence and disrupts the conventional narrative of the mother's lived experience by arguing that encounters with feelings of hatred are both universal and have the capacity to stimulate and enrich her maternal love The book draws on the author's personal mothering experiences those of other women and examples from film to inspire new introspection about the everyday maternal experience Lowy takes a psychosocial approach to weave thinking from selected psychoanalytic and contemporary accounts together with personal stories to explore how maternal ambivalence operates and how mothering is sourced in psychic struggles between loving and hating feelings in an atmosphere that is rife with social and personal expectations and prohibitions By reworking the experience of maternal ambivalence the book secures an understanding of the mother's feelings of hatred as a catalyst for her love and allows these maligned and taboo emotions to be named and reframed into acceptable and transformative feelings Brought alive by examples from film and first hand experience this book is fascinating reading for academics and students of psychology maternal and women's studies and sociology as well as practitioners in the fields of psychology social work medicine and counselling      Women, Mothers, Subjects Maura Sheehy, 2015-10-14 This collection drawn from twelve years of the influential journal Studies in Gender and Sexuality offers a groundbreaking advance in thinking and theorizing about what happens to women when they become mothers It explores how women are changed and shaped by interaction with their children and the cultural constructs about motherhood in which they are embedded Distinguished psychoanalysts philosophers feminists gender and cultural theorists explore the meeting place of cultural representations of motherhood maternal theory and mothers interacting in the clinical setting and with their children to illuminate how the process of becoming a mother creates and informs female subjectivity identity desire expression aggression ambition shame envy and relationships Contributors find mothers to be complex subjects negotiating rich hybrid identities that explode received notions of maternal and even female subjectivity in their complexity They create an exciting and very accessible new set of ideas and templates for thinking about mothers and women that will be of value to clinicians academics and mothers alike This book was originally published as a special issue of Studies in Gender and Sexuality The Mother in Psychoanalysis and Beyond Rosalind Mayo,Christina Moutsou,2016-10-04 The question of what it means to be a mother is a very contentious topic in psychoanalysis and in wider society The Mother in Psychoanalysis and Beyond explores our relationship to the maternal through psychoanalysis philosophy art and political and gender studies Over two years a group of psychotherapists and members of the public met at the Philadelphia Association for a series of seminars on the Maternal In the discussions that followed a chasm opened up slowly and painfully between the idealised longings and fantasies we all share and the realities of maternal experiences here were met the great silences of love loss longing memories desire hatred and ambivalence This book is the result of this bringing together in conversation and reflections of what so often seems unsayable about the Mother It examines how issues of personal and gender identity are shaped by the ideals of separation from the mother the fears and anxiety of merging with the mother and how this has often led in psychoanalysis and society to holding mothers responsible for a variety of personal and social ills and problems in which maternal vulnerability is denied and silenced There are two main themes running throughout the book Matricide and Maternal Subjectivity On the theme of matricide several contributors discuss the ways in which the discourse and narratives of the Mother have been silenced on a sociocultural level and within psychoanalysis and philosophy in favour of discourses that promote independence autonomy power and the avoidance and denial of our fundamental helplessness and vulnerability On the theme of maternal subjectivity several chapters look at the actual experience of mothering and or our relationship to our mother to highlight the ways in which the maternal is intimately connected with human subjectivity The Mother in Psychoanalysis and Beyond provides new and provocative thinking about the maternal and its place in various contemporary discourses It will appeal to psychoanalysts psychotherapists and psychologists of different schools scholars and advanced students of art gender studies politics and philosophy as well as anyone interested in maternity studies and the relationship between the maternal and human subjectivity From Pregnancy to Motherhood Gina Ferrara Mori,2015-06-05 From Pregnancy to Motherhood Psychoanalytic aspects of the beginning of the mother child relationship explores the mental states associated with pregnancy birth and the early days of motherhood from a psychoanalytic perspective Drawing on clinical research findings and the infant observation method originally developed by Esther Bick the contributors examine a range of topics which include how women s view of motherhood is influenced by social cultural and biotechnological factors how women s sense of identity changes throughout pregnancy and motherhood how women's relationships with her family partner and future child are shaped and how mental health professionals can better understand ways to work with issues of maternal and infant mental health Gina Ferrara Mori presents the research of psychoanalysts and psychotherapists working in different settings with mothers to be exploring their emotions wishes dreams phantasies fears during the time in which they wait for the birth of their baby and experience the various phases of their bodies development Their work discusses the specific and complex developmental process in female identity which the authors have termed the construction of the internal motherhood inner maternity which becomes a psychic container establishing the pre conditions for developing bonds affection and their relationship with the baby once it has been born From Pregnancy to Motherhood develops and elaborates theoretical thinking and research already available as well as presenting new material it will be stimulating reading for psychoanalysts psychologists psychotherapists gynaecologists paediatricians ultrasound doctors and technicians midwives social workers healthcare assistants registered and practical nurses teachers and students

Recognition of Maternal Identity in Preterm and Fullterm Mothers Mary T. Zabielski,1992      Maternal Identity, Role Satisfaction and Employment Among First Time Mothers ... Elizabeth Cathryn Powell,1990      The Maternal Lineage Paola Mariotti,2012 The Maternal Lineage highlights various psychological aspects of the mothering experience Clinical examples and theoretical research show that the transgenerational repetition of distressing mothering patterns can be successfully broken with professional help      The Maternal Tug: Ambivalence, I identity, and Agency Adams Sarah LaChance,2020-02-01 While the existence of maternal ambivalence has been evident for centuries it has only recently been recognized as central to the lived experience of mothering This accessible yet intellectually rigorous interdisciplinary collection demonstrates its presence and meaning in relation to numerous topics such as pregnancy birth Caesarean sections sleep self estrangement helicopter parenting poverty environmental degradation depression anxiety queer mothering disability neglect filicide and war rape Its authors deny the assumption that mothers who experience ambivalence are bad evil unnatural or insane Moreover historical records and cross cultural narratives indicate that maternal ambivalence appears in a wide range of circumstances but that it becomes unmanageable in circumstances of inequity deprivation and violence From this premise the authors in this collection raise imperative ethical social and political questions suggesting possibilities for vital cultural transformations These candid explorations demand we rethink our basic assumptions about how mothering is experienced in everyday life      The Inner World of the Mother Dale Mendell,Patsy Turrini,2003      Listening to Mothers' Voices Kathleen Karen Kelly,2000

Reclaiming a Spoiled Maternal Identity: Young Mothers' Experiences and Rejection of Stigma Kathryn Bondy Fessler,2008      African American and Latina Adolescent Mothers Ruiqing Yu,2021 This qualitative study was undertaken to explore adolescent mothers identity development The focus was their identity as an adolescent an ethnic racial minority and a mother and how these identities interact with their mental well being and or distress The birth rate among Latina and African American teenager girls is higher than Caucasian girls and teen childbearing is often associated with adverse consequences. This population needs more attention and help. Most studies with quantitative designs were unable to capture teen mothers' insights into how their identity develops after giving birth and how this development impacts their mental health status. This study contributes qualitative data to the field to investigate all three identities together and their combined impact on mental health status. Erikson's Psychosocial Development Theory, including its expansion by Marcia's Identity Status model and Mercer's Becoming a Mother (BAM) theory, are the theoretical framework for this study. A phenomenological research design was utilized for the interview method and data analyses. The six participants were aged 16-19 and included 3 African American females, 2 multiracial American females, and 1 Latina American female. Eighteen individual semi-structured interviews were conducted, three with each participant. Participants reported prioritizing the forming of maternal identity. The lived experiences of early childbearing overshadowed their development of adolescent identity, and ethnic/racial identity was not associated with other identities. Participants' maternal identity was most connected to their reporting of perinatal depression, with various risk and protective factors related to distress. Strengths, implications of the findings for counseling, and limitations corresponding to the future study were discussed.
