

These two types of data are not directly comparable, and hence a value correction was made to the 1980 data to make them comparable to the 1985 data. The correction was made by dividing the 1980 data by the ratio of the 1985 data to the 1980 data.
The corrected 1980 data are shown in the table below. The corrected data are shown in the table below. The corrected data are shown in the

These reports also consider the performance of the various models, and the authors conclude that the models used and differences in results of the three models are significant, but that model averaging may also produce better forecast results. Commentary: None.
