

TYPES OF MAPS

Maps are like special pictures that help us understand our world better. There are different types of maps, each showing different things.

1. POLITICAL MAPS

Imagine a puzzle of countries, states, and cities—this is what political maps look like! They use colors to show us where one place starts and another ends. So, if you want to know which country a city belongs to, you can look at a political map!

Did you know that political maps often undergo frequent updates due to changes in national borders, treaties, and geopolitical events?

2. PHYSICAL MAPS

Physical maps give us a peek at the shape of the land. They use colors to paint mountains, rivers, and deserts. If you're curious about what the Earth looks like without any borders, a physical map is your guide!

Did you know that the Imago Mundi, also known as the Babylonian Map of the World, is the oldest surviving world map, dating back to 700-500 BC.

It's Been Said Before Orin Hargraves,2014-07-01 Careful writers and speakers agree that clichés are generally to be avoided. However, nearly all of us continue to use them. Why do they persist in our language? In It's Been Said Before, lexicographer Orin Hargraves examines the peculiar idea and power of the cliché. He helps readers understand why certain phrases became clichés and why they should be avoided or why they still have life left in them. Indeed, clichés can be useful even powerful. And few people even agree on which expressions are clichés and which are not. Many regard any frequent idiom as a cliché, and a phrase regarded as a cliché in one context may be seen simply as an effective expression in another. Examples drawn from data about actual usage support Hargraves' identification of true clichés. They also illuminate his commentary on usage problems and helpful suggestions for eliminating clichés where they serve no useful purpose. Concise and lively, It's Been Said Before serves as a guide to the most overused phrases in the English language and to phrases that are used exactly as often as they should be.
