Life with Two Languages is the first book to provide a complete and authoritative look at the nature of the bilingual experience. François Grosjean himself a bilingual covers the topic from each of its many angles in order to provide a balanced introduction to this fascinating phenomenon. Grosjean discusses the political and social situations that arise when languages come into contact and the policies nations have established toward their linguistic minorities in the domains of education and governance. Of particular interest is his detailed account of the psychological and social factors that lead a bilingual to choose one of her languages when speaking to another bilingual or to use both languages in the fascinating phenomenon of code switching. The author explains how children become bilingual as quickly as they become monolingual, describes the organization of languages in the bilingual brain and examines the legacy of bilingualism on language as exemplified in word borrowings. Above all, Life with Two Languages puts the emphasis on the bilingual person. In a series of first hand reports scattered throughout the book, bilinguals tell what it is like to live with two languages and describe the educational and social experiences they have undergone. Written in a clear and informative style, Life with Two Languages will appeal to professionals and students in linguistics, education, sociology and psychology as well as to the more casually curious.

Language Planning for Medium of Instruction in Asia M. Hamid, Hoa Nguyen, Richard Baldauf, 2015-10-16 This volume investigates the policy and practice of medium of instruction at different levels of education in Asian polities including Bangladesh, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, the Maldives, Nepal, Timor Leste and Vietnam. The chapters provide an informed understanding of the context, process, actors, goals and outcomes of medium of instruction policies from a language policy and planning perspective. The volume has an emphasis on the exploration of medium of instruction in action which brings into focus the perspectives of micro policy enactors including teachers, students and parents in the local context, generating crucial empirical insights. This critical analysis of the goals, outcomes and experiences of this trend in global language in education will be of interest to language and education students, researchers, practicing teachers, executives in academia and language studies and to education policymaking authorities in Asia and other parts of the world. The volume updates existing research on medium of instruction and takes the field forward in a fast changing world as English medium instruction policies are globalised. This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning. The Rotarian, 1925
