Medieval Mississippians Timothy R. Pauketat, Susan M. Alt, 2015 Medieval Mississippians the eighth volume in the award winning Popular Archaeology Series introduces a key historical period in pre Columbian eastern North America the Mississippian era via a series of colorful chapters on places practices and peoples written from Native American and non Native perspectives on the past The volume lays out the basic contours of the early centuries of this era AD 1000 1300 in the Mississippian heartland making connections to later centuries and contemporary peoples Cahokia the place and Cahokian social history undergird the book but Mississippian material culture landscapes and descendants are highlighted presenting a balanced view of the Mississippian world

Aztec, Salmon, and the Puebloan Heartland of the Middle San Juan Paul F. Reed, Gary M. Brown, 2018-11-15 The contributors to this book attribute the development of Salmon and Aztec to migration and colonization by people from Chaco Canyon and that the Middle San Juan can be seen as one of the ancient Puebloan heartlands that made important contributions to contemporary Puebloan society

Cahokia's Complexities Susan M. Alt, 2018-04-24 Critical new discoveries and archaeological patterns increase understanding of early Mississippian culture and society The reasons for the rise and fall of early cities and ceremonial centers around the world have been sought for centuries In the United States Cahokia has been the focus of intense archaeological work to explain its mysteries Cahokia was the first and exponentially the largest of the Mississippian centers that appeared across the Midwest and Southeast after AD 1000 Located near present day East St Louis Illinois the central complex of Cahokia spanned more than 12 square kilometers and encompassed more than 120 earthen mounds As one of the foremost experts on Cahokia Susan M Alt addresses long standing considerations of eastern Woodlands archaeology the beginnings character and ending of Mississippian culture AD 1050 1600 from a novel theoretical and empirical vantage point Through this case study on farmers immigration and resettling Alt s narrative reanalyzes the relationship between administration and diversity incorporating critical new discoveries and archaeological patterns from outside of Cahokia Alt examines the cultural landscape of the Cahokia flood plain and the layout of one extraordinary upland site Grossman as an administrative settlement where local farmers might have seen or participated in Cahokian rituals and ceremonies involving a web of ancestors powers and places Alt argues that a farming district outside the center provides definitive evidences of the attempted centralized administration of a rural hinterland

Baires, Elizabeth Watts Malouchos, Jayur Madhusudan Mehta, 2022-11-12 This book examines the possibility and role of a Cahokian diaspora to understand cultural influence complexity historicity and movements in the Mississippian Southeast Collectively the chapters trace how the movements of Cahokian and American Bottom materials substances persons and non human bodies converged in the creation of Cahokian identities both within and outside of the Cahokia homeland through archaeological case studies that demonstrate the ways in which population movements foment social change Drawing initial inspiration from theories of
