present in the history textbooks of Romania and Serbia If so are there differences in the ways these myths define the in group and the relationship with the Other between a country that experienced interethnic conflict Serbia and a country that did not Romania Do textbooks affect the odds that conflict will occur Segesten s findings confirm the presence of mythologized versions of the past in the history textbooks of both countries over the entire fifteen year period studied 1992 2007 despite claims for professionalization of textbook making Myths of noble origins of heroism and victimhood appear in both cases Segesten finds the language to be ideological and in favor of the ethnic majority even if over time there is a slow tendency towards moderation especially in Romania probably due to the influence of the European Union Ultimately Myth Identity and Conflict by Anamaria Dutceac Segesten questions the alleged power of history textbooks to make a difference in ethnically divided societies prone to conflicts Post/Modern Dracula John S.
