Journal Of Business Ethics Impact Factor:

Citation Classics from the Journal of Business Ethics Alex C. Michalos, Deborah C Poff, 2012-08-01 The Journal of Business Ethics was founded by Alex C Michalos and Deborah C Poff and published its first issue in March 1982 It is the most frequently cited business ethics journal in the world The Journal has always offered a multi disciplinary and international public forum for the discussion of issues concerning the interaction of successful business and moral virtue Its authors and readers are primarily scholars and students in social sciences and philosophy with special interests in the interaction of these disciplines with business or corporate responsibility Since the field of business ethics grew simultaneously with the growth of the Journal a collection of its most cited articles is tantamount to a collection of the articles that had the greatest influence in defining the field over its first 30 years of development In this anniversary volume an overview of citation classics from the Journal is presented the 33 most frequently cited articles are reproduced and brief reflections on the impact of the Journal on the field are given from over 100 scholars who authored citation classics and or distinguished papers as well as those who served on the Editorial Board and or are recognized as leaders in the field

New Perspectives and Possibilities in Strategic Management in the 21st Century: Between Tradition and Modernity Martínez-Falcó, Javier, Marco-Lajara, Bartolomé, Sánchez-García, Eduardo, Millan-Tudela, Luis A., 2023-07-28 The field of strategic management is facing new challenges as two phenomena sustainability and information and communication technologies have altered the classic pillars of business strategy These far reaching changes require companies to make rapid adaptations in order to achieve optimal situations which can no longer be developed as they did in the past To help academics and managers understand the new fields of study and research within strategic management Javier Mart nez Falc Assistant Professor at the University of Alicante has written a groundbreaking book New Perspectives and Possibilities in Strategic Management in the 21st Century Between Tradition and Modernity This book is an essential guide for reflection and critique offering insights into the new currents and challenges of the discipline shedding light on the modernization of strategies in the corporate world It addresses the renewal and future directions of the field covering topics such as sustainability circular economy green innovation and information and communication technologies including blockchain big data artificial intelligence and IoT The book serves as a must read for academics academic students and policymakers interested in gaining a deeper understanding of current issues impacting deliberate business planning and organization It also serves as a valuable support material for undergraduate and master s business students providing a comprehensive understanding of the new fields of study in the discipline This book is an excellent addition to any academic collection and offers a thought provoking perspective on strategic management

Graduate School of Business,1997 ECRM 2018 17th European Conference on Research Methods in Business and Management Prof. Michela Marchiori,2018-07-12 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 17th European Conference on Research Methodology for Business and Management Studies ECRM which is being hosted this year by Universit Roma TRE Rome Italy on 12 13 July 2018 Globalisation and Social Responsibility David Crowther,Kiymet Tunca Caliyurt,2006 Over the last decade the question of the relationship between organisations and society has been subject to much debate often of a critical nature The decade has seen protests concerning the actions of organisations exposures of corporate exploitation and unfolding accounting scandals At the same time ethical behaviour and a concern for the environment have been shown to have a positive correlation with corporate performance The nature of corporate social responsibility is therefore a topical one for businesses and academics There are however many different perspectives upon what is meant by corporate social responsibility and how this might be applied within organisations This book explores some of these different perspectives based upon the experiences of different people in different parts of the world There has been much written about globalisation some of it positive and much of it negative It is a subject which arouses definite opinions Despite the fact that the word globalisation is part of the title of this book it is not our intention to contribute to this debate Instead we use the word globalisation in its original sense to represent the ubiquity of the concern for Corporate Social Responsibility CSR which is the subject matter of this book Specifically we are concerned with the social contract between an organisation and its stakeholders It is apparent that any actions which an organisation undertakes will have an effect not just upon itself but also upon the external environment within which that organisation resides In considering the effect of the organisation upon its external environment it must be recognised that this environment includes both the business environment in which the firm is operating the local societal environment in which the organisation is located and the wider global environment Effectively therefore there is a social contract between organizations and their stakeholders Recognition of the rights of all stakeholders and the duty of a business to be accountable in this wider context therefore has been largely a relatively recent phenomenon The economic view of accountability only to owners has only recently been subject to debate to any considerable extent In the current environment there is a need to debate this issue and its implications This book therefore recognises the international scope of the interest in corporate social responsibility both through the contributions made by the authors of the respective chapters who come from various parts of the world and also through the international importance of the perspectives offered by these contributors In doing so the various authors demonstrate that corporations are a part of society just as much as each of us is as a individual Furthermore they demonstrate that the issues and concerns are not local ones but are international in scope and concern us all The contributions to this book provide a representation of the range of concern for this relationship and the range of topics which fall within the subject matter of CSR Among the authors who have contributed to this book are representatives from every continent and from a wide range of disciplines The topics which are considered in the various chapters are equally diverse
