EMBASE List of Journals Indexed ,2005 California. Court of Appeal (2nd Appellate District). Records and Briefs
California (State)., Number of Exhibits 15 Received document entitled EXHIBITS TO PETITION FOR WRIT Seeing Nature Through Gender Virginia Scharff,2003 Environmental history has traditionally told the story of Man and Nature Scholars have too frequently overlooked the ways in which their predominantly male subjects have themselves been shaped by gender Seeing Nature through Gender here reintroduces gender as a meaningful category of analysis for environmental history showing how women s actions desires and choices have shaped the world and seeing men as gendered actors as well In thirteen essays that show how gendered ideas have shaped the ways in which people have represented experienced and consumed their world Virginia Scharff and her coauthors explore interactions between gender and environment in history Ranging from colonial borderlands to transnational boundaries from mountaintop to marketplace they focus on historical representations of humans and nature on questions about consumption on environmental politics and on the complex reciprocal relations among human bodies and changing landscapes They also challenge the ecofeminist position by challenging the notion that men and women are essentially different creatures with biologically different destinies Each article shows how a person or group of people in history have understood nature in gendered terms and acted accordingly often with dire consequences for other people and organisms Here are considerations of the ways we study sexuality among birds of William Byrd s masking sexual encounters in his account of an eighteenth century expedition of how the ecology of fire in a changing built environment has reshaped firefighters own gendered identities Some are playful as in a piece on the evolution of snow bunnies to shred betties Others are dead serious as in a chilling portrait of how endocrine disrupters are reinventing humans animals and water systems from the cellular level out Aiding and adding significantly to the enterprise of environmental history Seeing Nature through Gender bridges gender history and environmental history in unexpected ways to show us how the natural world can remake the gendered patterns we ve engraved on ourselves and on the planet The Journal of Cancer Research ,1916 Proceedings [of The] First Symposium of the Section of Experimental Cancer Research (SEK) of the German Cancer Society German Cancer Society. Section of Experimental Cancer Research (SEK). Symposium,1981 Cancer Chemotherapy and Biological Response Modifiers Guiseppe Giaccone,Richard Schilsky,Paul Sondel,2005-06 This 22nd Volume of CANCER CHEMOTHERAPY BIOLOGICAL RESPONSE MODIFIERS continues in the tradition of providing a timely review of progress and achievements in clinical oncology The emphasis of Annual 22 is on recent advances in the understanding of anti cancer drugs specific malignancies and biological response modifiers The section on drugs includes new chapters on the clinical use of epidermal growth factor receptor pathways and on angiogenesis pathway inhibitors These agents have moved rapidly from preclinical models to demonstrated clinical efficacy and are becoming part of comprehensive oncologic care The section on tumours provides detailed updates on past year s advances in the understanding of risk classification staging and management of common malignancies The section on biologics provides chapters on active immunotherapy through vaccines or cytokine administration exciting perspectives on the modification of T cells to recognise tumours using tumour reactive monoclonal antibody and an important review detailing the effect of conventional cancer treatment on the patient s immune system The special section within Annual 22 is devoted to recent advances in the understanding and treatment of melanoma Special detail is included regarding advances in screening prevention and predisposition for this increasingly frequent disease in addition to chapters on surgical treatment and biologic response modifiers interventions Chapters on the uses of interferon and on other cytokines combined with chemotherapy summarise how and when these approaches have proven to be useful Four chapters then review separate classes of immunologic interventions for melanoma Research Grants Index National Institutes of Health (U.S.). Division of Research Grants,1974 Encyclopedia of Medical Devices and Instrumentation, Hydrocephalus, Tools for Diagnosis and Treatment of - Monoclonal Antibodies John G. Webster,2006-04-07 The articles in The Encyclopedia of Medical Devices and Instrumentation focus on what is currently useful or is likely to be useful in future medicine They answer the question What are the branches of medicine and how does technology assist each of them Articles focus on the practice of medicine that is assisted by devices rather than including for example the use of drugs to treat disease The title is the only resource on the market dealing with the subject in encyclopedic detail Accessible to practitioners with a broad range of backgrounds from students to researchers and physicians Articles cover the latest developments such as nanotechnology fiber optics and signal
