Research Priorities for Zoonoses and Marginalized Infections

TDR Disease Reference Group on Zoonoses and Marginalized Infectious Diseases of Poverty, World Health Organization, 2012

This report provides a review and analysis of the research landscape for zoonoses and marginalized infections which affect poor populations and a list of research priorities to support disease control. The work is the output of the disease reference group on zoonoses and marginalized infectious diseases DRG6 which is part of an independent think tank of international experts established and funded by the Special Programme for Research and Training in Tropical Diseases (TDR) to identify key research priorities through the review of research evidence and input from stakeholder consultations. The report covers a diverse range of diseases including zoonotic helminth, protozoa, viral and bacterial infections considered to be neglected and associated with poverty. Disease-specific research issues were elaborated under individual disease sections and many common priorities were readily identified among the diseases such as need for new and/or improved drugs and regimens, diagnostics and where appropriate vaccines. The disease-specific priorities are described as micro-priorities compared with the macro-level priorities which will drive such policies as the need for improved surveillance, the need for inter-sectoral interaction between health, livestock, agriculture, natural resources and wildlife in tackling the zoonotic diseases and the need for a true assessment of the burden of the zoonoses. This is one of ten disease and thematic reference group reports that have come out of the TDR Think Tank, all of which have contributed to the development of the Global Report for Research on Infectious Diseases of Poverty.
