Labor Economics in an Islamic Framework Toseef Azid, Umar Burki, Muhammad Junaid Khawaja, Nasim Shah Shirazi, Muhammad Tahir, 2021-12-30 The labor market in Islam is governed by the Islamic laws of fairness justice and reward that is equivalent to the job done Most of the literature in the field discusses the normative aspect of the labor market whereas few attempts can be seen to address more positive aspects There is a need for new theoretical and empirical models for the Islamic labor market which should differ from established approaches This book provides a comprehensive overview of the nature scope and dimensions of the labor market in an Islamic context from both theoretical and practical perspectives It presents and discusses labor economics and then compares the similarities and differences between conventional and Islamic views of the labor market explaining where they meet and critically justifying why they differ under the umbrella of Shari'ah The book raises pertinent issues which it analyzes from both standpoints and widens the discourse to include norms morality and related institutions such as social security and welfare A unique feature of the book is that it examines labor economics practices among a specific group of countries and studies the labor conditions within these countries where the majority of the population follow the teachings of Islam in their daily lives The book proposes practical strategies for the development of new models for the Islamic labor market which are compatible with the modern world The book will enable academics and practitioners of Islamic economics to make economic sense of Shari'ah compliance and human resource development
