An Introduction to Internet-Based Financial Investigations Kimberly Goetz, 2016-04-08 Increasingly employees of regulatory bodies law enforcement agencies and others who are not trained forensic accountants or experienced investigators find themselves responsible for conducting what amount to financial investigations An engineer who oversees the cleanup of a toxic waste site might need to track down the former owners of the site to find the polluter Perhaps the applicable licensing agency receives a complaint that an attorney mishandled a client's money Maybe it's the attorney who needs help finding the assets with which a client's former spouse has absconded Training in investigation techniques tends to be very limited for many employees Training on how to find information without incurring significant expense is virtually nonexistent This book helps fill the void An Introduction to Internet Based Financial Investigations will help anyone who conducts financial investigations as part of their job to reduce their dependence on trial and error by showing them where and how to look Using clear sections describing how to approach an investigation including the ethical perspective what to look for and what you find what free and low cost internet resources are available to support investigations and how to assemble and present the results of investigations Kimberly Goetz guides students and beginning investigators through the complex world of financial investigations

The Hidden Web William O. Scheeren, 2012-02-02 Google is certainly a useful Internet search tool for general topics but most of the information available on the Invisible Web can't be found through Google This book explains the value of the Invisible Web and how to access it Most students and researchers possess only rudimentary Internet searching skills The majority of school and public librarians are not aware of the breadth and depth of information available on the Hidden Web This is unfortunate as the ability to navigate the Hidden Web in schools and public libraries is essential to locating the most current and authoritative information The Hidden Web A Sourcebook serves as a valuable source of information about the Hidden Web much of which comprises websites containing statistical information or data from a wide variety of government agencies The concepts search techniques and specific websites presented will be helpful in information literacy instruction and the teaching of research skills

Think for Yourself Vikram Mansharamani, 2020-06-16 We've outsourced too much of our thinking How do we get it back Have you ever followed your GPS device to a deserted parking lot Or unquestioningly followed the advice of an expert perhaps a doctor or financial adviser only to learn later that your own thoughts and doubts were correct And what about the stories we've all heard over the years about sick patients whether infected with Ebola or COVID 19 who were sent home or allowed to travel because busy staff people were following a protocol to the letter rather than using common sense Why and how do these kinds of things happen As Harvard lecturer and global trend watcher Vikram Mansharamani shows in this eye opening and perspective shifting book our complex data flooded world has made us ever more reliant on experts protocols and technology Too often we ve stopped thinking for ourselves With stark and compelling examples drawn from business sports and everyday life Mansharamani illustrates how in a very real sense we have outsourced our thinking to a troubling degree relinquishing our autonomy Of course experts protocols and computer based systems are essential to helping us make informed decisions What we need is a new approach for integrating these information sources more effectively harnessing the value they provide without undermining our ability to think for ourselves The author provides principles and techniques for doing just that empowering readers with a more critical and nuanced approach to making decisions Think for Yourself is an indispensable guide for those looking to restore self reliant thinking in a data driven and technology dependent yet overwhelmingly uncertain world     Assessment of Manufactured Homes and Parks California.
