Medical Geography Routledge Revivals Progress And Prospect:

Medical Geography (Routledge Revivals) Michael Pacione, 2014-06-17 Geographers have for a long time contributed much valuable detailed data on the geographical patterns of disease and health care delivery to the medical world. On its first publication in 1985 this edited collection addressed the need for a review of progress in the field of medical geography that could also shape further developments. Topics under discussion include national systems of health care, the utilisation of health services, medical planning and medical geography in the developing world. This is a comprehensive volume that is still of great relevance to today's students of medical geography, health care and demography. Medical Geography

Michael Pacione, 1986-01-01 Medical Geography, 2012 Acid Rain (Routledge Revivals) Chris C. Park, 2013-10-18 This title first published in 1987 provides an authoritative account of both the science and the politics of acid rain. Chris Park places the debates surrounding acid rain in context and examines the full implications of scientific studies and the effects of acid rain on surface waters, soils and buildings. Evidence is drawn from around the world including an examination of the damage in Scandinavia and Germany and the effects of acid rain in the U.K. and U.S.A. A comprehensive and relevant work, this is an important guide for students of geography, environment and sustainability and energy policy. Books in Series,

Therefore, most developed countries have set a clear goal of achieving carbon neutrality after reaching peak carbon emissions. In the context of global warming, a low carbon economy based on low energy consumption and low pollution has become a global popular research topic. At present, the international community has formed a consensus on green transformation and taken practical actions. At the same time, the achievement of the carbon neutrality goal has highlighted the importance of public health and therefore a series of new research directions are emerging and how to develop a low carbon economy and protect public health while achieving the carbon neutrality goal has become an important issue. In the post-epidemic era, economic recovery and public health issues need to be addressed and a low carbon economy and public health will face even greater challenges with carbon neutrality goals placing this issue at the forefront. For this Research Topic, we would like submissions that provide research results on topics such as green development, green low carbon, resource conservation, low carbon economy, low carbon development, low carbon living, low carbon society, population health, health distribution, health awareness, health behavior and public health. Quantitative, qualitative and mixed methods approaches are welcome to explore the low carbon economy and public health from multiple perspectives. The developmental history of the low carbon economy, the level of development and the evaluation of the level of development. The many challenges faced by the low carbon economy in the development process and how to deal with the challenges in the development process The development of a low carbon economy is influenced by a variety of factors such as low carbon investment policy norms technology development energy development and digitalization levels etc We would like research works which study the factors that influence the development of a low carbon economy Analyze which industries will have an impact on the development of a low carbon economy including but not limited to the energy industry transportation industry and construction industry To study the factors that affect the development of public health and how to improve public health To study the impact of residential environment sports environment community environment etc on public health To study the methods used in studies related to the development of a low carbon economy and public health development To analyze the impact of the development of a low carbon economy on other industries such as international trade the real estate industry and tourism
