Sustainability in Public Procurement, Corporate Law and Higher Education

Lela Melon, 2023-12-12 Contemporary changes in law and policy at the global level to efficiently answer to environmental and social issues correspond to the traditional approach of limiting the regulatory and policy changes to a singular field or discipline tackling the inherent unsustainability of corporate laws or incentivising the offering of sustainable finance to stimulate the transition towards sustainable practices This book provides a new viewpoint and approach of simultaneously regulating seemingly non connected fields in order to provide a fertile ground for a truly organic change towards sustainable outcomes It addresses diverse questions of sustainable transition of the three specific fields to support sustainable practices in public procurement private market transaction and in educating future business leaders and legal experts by incorporating sustainable concerns as the underlying guiding principles of their conduct It translates scientific findings into a practical format that can be used by diverse stakeholders searching for information and solutions in their respective professional fields The underlying assumption is that a simultaneous action in the three respective fields of public procurement corporate law and higher education brings about more coherent and interconnected results that incentivise further action and changes towards sustainable practices The book furthers the idea of policy coherence by building upon the findings in the field of public procurement corporate law and practice and higher education curricula By identifying the barriers in the three respective fields for sustainable action and proposing solutions for either eliminating or minimising those barriers at the EU level the book calls for further changes in the respective fields as well as for considering the spillover effects of these policies on other fields

Diverse social programmes including conditional cash transfer programmes labour and production inclusion programmes and social pensions are being implemented in Latin American and Caribbean countries with the aim of ending poverty and reducing inequalities throughout the life cycle This book offers an up to date analysis of these programmes and the way they relate to labour inclusion and analyses ongoing debates regarding the possible incentives and disincentives they create in terms of the labour supply formalization and child labour among the target population Considering that poverty is a structural problem of highly unequal societies the thesis that poverty is due to a lack of effort on the part of the poor is argued to be an expression of the strong prejudice against those living in poverty the great majority of whom work or are actively seeking employment but are hampered by the large decent work deficits existing in the region From an integrated and rights based perspective public policies should simultaneously address the twofold challenge of social and labour inclusion in order to achieve basic thresholds of well being by ensuring income universal access to good quality social services and opportunities for decent work The Engineer ,1875 The New York Daily Tribune Index ,1895 Railroad Age Gazette ,1894 Normal Instructor and Teachers World ,1924 The Economist ,1928 Engineering and Mining Journal ,1894 The Commercial and Financial Chronicle ,1899
