Looking Technology S Impact On Modern Relationships:

Handbook of Contemporary Chinese Social Sciences Ping Hao, 2025-10-09 This Handbook presents thorough literature reviews and detailed analyses on the development of China's social sciences research since the reform and opening up in 1978. The handbook is comprised of 4 sections: politics and law, sociology and economics, demography and education, journalism studies and library science. Written and edited by leading scholars from Peking University, each volume critiques the research findings and provides guidance for future investigations of the respective field. Given its scope, the handbook will offer international academics an in-depth and up-to-date understanding of the development of Chinese scholars' research on Chinese social sciences over the past forty years.

Looking? M. David Johnson, 2015-01-17 Do open relationships, friends with benefits, and multiple sexual partners toll the bell for the death of marriage and monogamy, or do they herald a new age of modern relationships? They're certainly here to stay and are gaining in popularity all around the world. Using the complex sexual relationships between Tony Robbie and Dave as well as twenty years as a leading divorce lawyer, Looking tries to assess how technology is changing everything about marriage and our relationships. Modern technology is triggering a new sexual revolution and forcing a redefinition of our relationship paradigm. Texting, selfies, and social media like Facebook have exploded our ability to seek out new mates, and hookup apps make sex as easy as online banking. Looking argues that our Whack-a-mole approach to monogamy, where couples make complex rules desperately trying to preserve it, is failing against this unstoppable rush of technology. Relationships are evolving. The question is: will marriage change with the times or fade into extinction like the Dodo bird?

Intimate Relationships and Social Change Christina L. Scott, Sampson Lee Blair, 2017-09-20 This multidisciplinary volume provides a unique and truly global collection of research on the nature of dating, mating, and coupling as they occur across a variety of cultures in dynamically shifting societies.

Smart Grids and Buildings for Energy and Societal Transition Benoît Robyns, Laure Dobigny, Dhaker Abbes, Benoit Durillon, Hervé Barry, Christophe Saudemont, 2024-08-28 This book presents interdisciplinary approaches to help buildings' electrical energy networks and their users contribute to the energy and societal transition. Smart Grids and Buildings for Energy and Societal Transition examines the technologies, uses, and imaginaries involved in implementing smart buildings and smart grids. Production and consumption forecasts, modeling of stakeholder involvement, and self-consumption within a renewable energy community exploiting blockchain technology are examples developed with a view to fostering the emergence of smart grids. The potential of smart buildings taking into account user comfort while increasing energy efficiency is identified. Full-scale demonstrators are used to test the proposed solutions and to ensure that users take full advantage of the potential for electrical flexibility.
