The uncomfortable truths that shaped small communities in the midwest During the Great Migration Black Americans sought new lives in midwestern small towns only to confront the pervasive efforts of white residents determined to maintain their area s preferred cultural and racial identity Jennifer Sdunzik explores this widespread phenomenon by examining how it played out in one midwestern community Sdunzik merges state and communal histories interviews and analyses of population data and spatial and ethnographic materials to create a rich public history that reclaims Black contributions and history She also explores the conscious and unconscious white actions that all but erased Black Americans and the terror and exclusion used against them from the history of many midwestern communities An innovative challenge to myth and perceived wisdom The Geography of Hate reveals the socioeconomic political and cultural forces that prevailed in midwestern towns and helps explain the systemic racism and endemic nativism that remain entrenched in American life History of African Americans Thomas J. Davis,2016-10-24 This rich cultural history of African Americans outlines their travails triumphs and achievements in negotiating individual and collective identities to overcome racism slavery and the legacies of these injustices from colonial times to the present One of every five Americans at the nation s beginning was an African American a fact that underscores their importance in U S growth and development This fascinating study moves from Africans early contacts with the Americas to African Americans 21st century presence exploring their role in building the American nation and in constructing their own identities communities and cultures Historian and lawyer Thomas J Davis s multi themed narrative of compelling content provides a historical overview of the rise of African Americans from slavery and segregation in their anti racist quest to enjoy equal rights and opportunities to reach the American Dream of pursuing happiness The work features portraits of individuals and treats images of African Americans in their roles as performers producers consumers and creators and as the face of social problems such as crime education and poverty Shifting Toponymies Luisa Caiazzo,I.M. Nick,2020-11-13 Far from being objective and static pointers place names are dynamic tools of inscription used to re shape both our surroundings and our identities This book examines the shifting tides in the complex relationship between places identities and toponyms to unveil the multilayered embeddedness of re naming practices The volume presents original contributions to this rich field of enquiry and fosters a multidisciplinary approach in exploring the broad theme of re naming and identity Ranging from theoretical discussions to in depth case studies the chapters featured here investigate the often controversial but ever fascinating relationship between toponyms and identity As a privileged medium of expression place names constitute both an instrument and a vehicle for conveying identity values and visions of the world across space and time The multifaceted geopolitical historical and linguistic issues tackled here make this volume a valuable resource to academics and postgraduate students from a broad spectrum of disciplines including onomastics and linguistics sociology history government planning and policy Holocaust studies postcolonial studies and media studies

Unsettling the Great White North Michele A. Johnson, Funké Aladejebi, 2022-01-27 An exhaustive volume of leading scholarship in the field of Black Canadian history Unsettling the Great White North highlights the diverse experiences of persons of African descent within the chronicles of Canada's past The book considers histories and theoretical framings within the disciplines of history sociology law and cultural and gender studies to chart the mechanisms of exclusion and marginalization in multicultural Canada and to situate Black Canadians as speakers and agents of their own lives Working to interrupt the myth of benign whiteness that has been deeply implanted into the country's imagination Unsettling the Great White North uncovers new narratives of Black life in Canada

A Contested Terrain AnneMarie Brosnan, 2025-03-04 A testament to the resilience and determination of Black North Carolinians to achieve educational equality This book examines the educational experiences of Black North Carolinians during the American Civil War and Reconstruction period 1861-1877 By highlighting the collaborative efforts that led to the growing network of schools for the formerly enslaved people it argues that schooling the Freedpeople was a contested terrain fraught with conflicting visions of Black freedom and the role education should play Although Black men and women emerged as the driving force behind the educational endeavors of this period their work was facilitated by Northern aid and missionary societies the federally mandated Freedmen's Bureau and over 1,400 teachers from various regional and racial backgrounds Yet the educational landscape was far from uniform and the individuals and organizations involved had their distinct visions regarding the nature and purpose of Freedpeople's education Through the use of qualitative and quantitative research methods this book offers new insights into the reasons why Black and white Northerners and Southerners elected to become teachers By examining their diverse motivations and experiences it argues that attitudes toward Freedpeople's education were complex and fluid defying neat characterization Despite mounting obstacles and opposition to their work Black North Carolinians' unrelenting quest for education ultimately gave rise to free public schooling for both races the professionalization of Black teachers and an extensive network of Historically Black Colleges and Universities
