Principles of Clinical Medicine for Space Flight Michael R. Barratt, Ellen S. Baker, Sam L. Pool, 2020-01-02 In its first edition Principles of Clinical

Medicine for Space Flight established itself as the authoritative reference on the contemporary knowledge base of space medicine and standards of care for space flyers. It received excellent notices and is used in the curricula of civilian and military training programs and used as a source of questions for the Aerospace Medicine Certifying Examination under the American Board of Preventive Medicine. In the intervening few years the continuous manning of the International Space Station has both strengthened existing knowledge and uncovered new and significant phenomena related to the human in space. The Second Edition incorporates this information. Gaps in the first edition will be addressed with the addition of new and revised chapters. This edition is extensively peer reviewed and represents the most up to date knowledge.

The Protection of Employees during Asset Deals in Japan and Germany Jannis Bantele,2023-02-08 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2022 in the subject Law Civil Private Industrial Labour Keio University Law School course LL M in Global Legal Practice language English abstract

The employees protection during asset deals shall be explained in detail first from a Japanese and after that from a German legal viewpoint introducing the respective systems of company and labour law and taking into account the historical as well as the social context of both countries. Afterwards these two systems shall be directly compared to determine whether there are lessons to be learned from the other regulatory way. By these means the questions shall be answered how much protection during asset deals for employees is necessary and adequate as well as whether an optimal regulation of this situation is possible. Through times of economic upswing or crisis Japan and Germany's economic and legal cooperation has been profound for the longest time and thus overcame borders in culture and language. As for labour law in particular both countries share the general regulatory way by emphasizing the protection of employees with only natural differences remaining. Furthermore be it times of economic stability or uncertainty the acquisition of undertakings in the form of asset deals for business expansion or restructuring plays a significant role in both countries. The discontinuity of employment relationships upon such restructuring measures however bears great risks and insecurities for employees and calls for the legislator as well as the jurisdiction to provide for solutions Solutions have been found in Japan as well as in Germany although with significant differences yet to explore Abridged Final Report with Resolutions World Meteorological Organization.
