Christopher McGunnigle

Maps Of The Imagination The Writer As Cartographer:

Maps of the Imagination Peter Turchi, 2004 Drawing on texts as varied as poetry novels and cartoons Turchi explores how writers and cartographers use many of the same devices for plotting and executing their work Tracing the history of maps he then relates what writers do in projecting a literary work from the imagination onto the page Mapping

Different Geographies Karel Kriz, William Cartwright, Lorenz Hurni, 2010-09-15 This book is the outcome of the work of contributors who participated in the workshop Mapping Different Geographies MDG in February 2010 held in Puchberg am Schneeberg Austria This meeting brought together cartographers artists and geoscientists who research and practice in applications that focus on enhancing or to one communication or develop and evaluate methodologies that provide innovative methods for sharing information The main intention of the workshop was to investigate how different geographies are being mapped and the possibilities for developing new theories and techniques for information design and transfer based on place or location So as to communicate these concepts it was important to appreciate the many contrasting meanings of mapping that were held by workshop participants Also the many and varied viewpoints of what different geographies are were elaborated upon and discussed Therefore as the focus on space and time was embedded within everyone's fields of investigation this was addressed during the workshop This resulted in very engaging discourse which in some cases exposed the restrictions that certain approaches need to consider For participants this proved to be most useful as this allowed them to appreciate the limits and restrictions of their own approach to understanding and representing different geographies As well the workshop also was most helpful as a vehicle for demonstrating the common ground of interest held by the very diverse areas of endeavour that the workshop participants work within Geographies of Memory and Postwar Urban Regeneration in British Literature Alina Cojocaru, 2022-05-13 This book proposes a new approach to the literary representations of London by means of correlating geocriticism spatial literary studies and memory studies in order to investigate the interplay between reality and fiction in mapping the urban imaginary It conducts an analysis of depictions of London in British literature published between 1975 and 2005 exploring the literary representations of the real urban restructurings prompted by the rebuilding projects in war and poverty stricken districts of London the remapping of the metropolis by immigrants gentrification and the displacement of communities as well as the urban dissolution caused by terrorism The selected works of fiction written by Peter Ackroyd Penelope Lively Zadie Smith Andrea Levy J G Ballard Michael Moorcock Doris Lessing and Ian McEwan provide a record of the city in times of de reconstruction emphasizing the structure of London as a palimpsest which becomes a central image The book contributes to the development of the subject field by introducing a number of original concepts which connect geocriticism and memory studies Gamification in the RhetComp Curriculum Christopher McGunnigle, 2023-01-17 Gamification is an up and coming popular trend in all levels and types of education including public and private schools higher education the military the private sector and elsewhere Gamification introduces aspects of game

design like teamwork competition rewards and prizes storytelling and more into lesson plan units In many cases actual games whether it be Scrabble Hangman Candy Crush Dungeons Dragons and many others are adapted into educational tools This chapter collection will specifically look at the use of gamification techniques in Freshmen Writing courses and related Composition Writing and Rhetoric classes Each chapter will provide sample gamified lessons supported by relevant scholarship in both Gamification Theory and Writing Studies

Cartographic Perspectives ,2007 Literary Landscapes, Landscape in Literature Michele Bottalico,Maria Teresa Chialant,Eleonora Rao,2007 The Publishers Weekly ,2005 365 ,2004 A Muse and a Maze Peter Turchi,2014-11-11 With his characteristic talent for finding the connections between writing and the stuff of our lives most notably in his earlier hit Maps of the Imagination The Writer as Cartographer Peter Turchi ventures into new and even more surprising territory In A Muse and a Maze Turchi draws out the similarities between writing and puzzle making and its flip side puzzle solving He teases out how mystery lies at the heart of all storytelling And he uncovers the magic the creation of credible illusion that writers share with the likes of Houdini and master magicians In Turchi s associative narrative we learn about the history of puzzles their obsessive quality and that Benjamin Franklin was a devotee of an ancient precursor of sudoku called Magic Squares Applying this rich backdrop to the requirements of writing Turchi reveals as much about the human psyche as he does about the literary imagination and the creative process With the goal of giving writers new ways to think about their work and readers new ways to consider the books they encounter A Muse and a Maze suggests ways in which every piece of writing is a kind of puzzle The work argues that literary writing is defined at least in part by its embrace of mystery offers tangrams as a model for the presentation of complex characters compares a writer s relationship to his or her narrator to magicians and wizards offers the maze and the labyrinth as alternatives to the more common notion of the narrative line and concludes with a discussion of how readers and writers like puzzle solvers not only tolerate but find pleasure in difficulty While always balancing erudition with accessibility Turchi examines the work of writers as various as A A Milne Dashiell Hammett Truman Capote Anton Chekhov Alison Bechdel F Scott Fitzgerald Antonia Nelson Vladimir Nabokov Charles D Ambrosio Michael Ondaatje Alice Munro Thomas Bernhard and Mark Twain elaborating and illuminating ways in which their works expand and deliver on the title s double entendre A Muse and a Maze With 100 images that range from movie stills from Citizen Kane and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid to examples of sudokus crosswords and other puzzles from Norman Rockwell s famous triple self portrait to artwork by Charles Richie and from historical arcana to today s latest magic A Muse and a Maze offers prose exposition images text quotations and every available form of wisdom leading the reader step by step through passages from stories and novels to demonstrate with remarkable clarity how writers evolve their eventual creations

Step Inside Design ,2002 The Power of Projections Arthur Jay Klinghoffer,2006-04-30 Why is Europe at the top half of maps and Africa at the bottom Although we are accustomed to that convention it is in fact a politically motivated almost entirely subjective way of depicting a ball spinning in space As The Power of Projections teaches us maps do not portray reality only interpretations of it To begin with they are two dimensional projections of a three dimensional spherical Earth Add to that the fact that every map is made for a purpose and its design tends to reflect that purpose Finally a map is often a psychological projection of the historical political and cultural values of the cartographer or of the nation person or organization for which the map was created In this fascinating book Klinghoffer examines the world perceptions of various civilizations and the ways in which maps have been formulated to serve the agendas of cartographers and their patrons He analyzes the recent decline of sovereignty the spread of globalization the reassertion of ethnic identity and how these trends affect contemporary mapmaking
