Kafka's Soup, 2006 An unusual book describing recipes in a funny and clever way using the manner and literary style of various authors Kafka's Soup Mark Crick, 2012-02-09 If you've ever wondered what it would be like to have dinner with Franz Kafka Jane Austen or Raymond Chandler this is your chance to find out Literary ventriloquist Mark Crick presents seventeen recipes in the voices of famous writers from Homer to Irvine Welsh Guaranteed to delight lovers of food and books these witty pastiches will keep you so entertained in the kitchen that you'll be sorry when your guests arrive New Essays on Life Writing and the Body Christopher Stuart, Stephanie Todd, 2009-03-26 In light of materialist revisions of the Cartesian dual self and the increased recognition of memoir and autobiography as a crucial cultural index the physical body has emerged in the last twenty five years as an increasingly inescapable object of inquiry speculation and theory that intersects all of the various subgenres of life writing New Essays on Life Writing and the Body thus offers a timely original focused and yet appropriately interdisciplinary study of life writing This collection brings together new work by established authorities in autobiography such as Timothy Dow Adams G Thomas Couser Cynthia Huff and others along with essays by emerging scholars in the field Subjects range from new interpretations of well known autobiographies by Edith Wharton Gertrude Stein and Lucy Grealy as well as scholarly surveys of more recently defined subgenres such as the numerous New Woman autobiographies of the late 19th century adoption narratives and sibling memoirs of the mentally impaired Due to their wide interdisciplinary focus these essays will prove valuable not only to more traditional literary scholars interested in the classic literary autobiography but also to those in Women's Studies Ethnic and African American Studies as well as in emerging fields such as Disability Studies and Cognitive Studies Kafka's Soup Mark Crick, 2005 An unusual book describing recipes in a funny and clever way using the manner and literary style of various authors Beyond the Five Paragraph Essay Kimberly Campbell, Kristi Latimer, 2023-10-10 Love it or hate it the five paragraph essay is perhaps the most frequently taught form of writing in classrooms of yesterday and today But have you ever actually seen five paragraph essays outside of school walls Have you ever found it in business writing journalism nonfiction or any other genres that exist in the real world Kimberly Hill Campbell and Kristi Latimer reviewed the research on the effectiveness of the form as a teaching tool and discovered that the research does not support the five paragraph formula In fact research shows that the formula restricts creativity emphasizes structure rather than content does not improve standardized test scores inadequately prepares students for college writing and results in vapid writing In Beyond the Five Paragraph Essay Kimberly and Kristi show you how to reclaim the literary essay and create a program that encourages thoughtful writing in response to literature They provide numerous strategies that stimulate student thinking value unique insight and encourage lively personal writing including the following Close reading which is the basis for writing about literature Low stakes writing options that support students thinking as they read Collaboration in support of discussion debate and organizational structures that support writing as exploration A focus on students writing process as foundational to content development and structure The use of model texts to write in the form of the literature students are reading and analyzing The goal of reading and writing about literature is to push and challenge our students thinking We want students to know that their writing can convey something important a unique view to share defend prove delight discover and inspire If we want our students to be more engaged skilled writers we need to move beyond the five paragraph essay

The Silent Life of Things Alan Munton, Daniela Rogobete, Jonathan P. Sell, 2015-11-25 The ever growing interest in the analysis of materiality has found its expression in many studies of objects and objecthood of things and thingness Combining cultural phenomenological semiotic and philosophical approaches this collection of eleven essays proposes a journey into the silent life of things into those aspects of materiality that are not immediately visible and require both increased attention and a sense of intuition It focuses on the subtle changes that materiality operates upon our subjectivity and upon our status as producers users possessors negotiators and manipulators of objects and analyses the ways in which materiality is constantly redefined by consumerism and the strategies it adopts in order to resist commodification In the process the collection explores different ways of deciphering what materiality in its reliable concreteness or its magical materialism tries to tell us all the silent stories that things accumulate while circulating among people societies and cultures the narratives they weave when amassed collected archived or transformed into cultural commodities the secrets they reveal when witnessing the gradual commodification of their owners of their bodies lives and souls The Silent Life of Things Representing and Reading Commodified Objecthood establishes a new paradigm for reading and interpreting commodified materiality and its participation in the establishment of a new aesthetics of consumerism
