Handbook of Employee Selection James L. Farr, Nancy T. Tippins, 2017-03-27 This second edition of the Handbook of Employee Selection has been revised and updated throughout to reflect current thinking on the state of science and practice in employee selection. In this volume a diverse group of recognized scholars inside and outside the United States balance theory research and practice often taking a global perspective. Divided into eight parts, chapters cover issues associated with measurement such as validity and reliability as well as practical concerns around the development of appropriate selection procedures and implementation of selection programs. Several chapters discuss the measurement of various constructs commonly used as predictors and other chapters confront criterion measures that are used in test validation. Additional sections include chapters that focus on ethical and legal concerns and testing for certain types of jobs e.g. blue collar jobs. The second edition features a new section on technology and employee selection. The Handbook of Employee Selection Second Edition provides an indispensable reference for scholars, researchers, graduate students and professionals in industrial and organizational psychology, human resource management and related fields. Resources in Education, 1972

Designing a New Taxonomy of Educational Objectives Robert J. Marzano, 2001 This book articulates a taxonomy of educational objectives that uses the best research and theory accumulated since the publication of Taxonomy of Educational Objectives Bloom et al 1956. This work should be considered a first step in the construction of a new model although the research theory and practice are solid enough to be used in its present form for a variety of purposes. The New Taxonomy is intended to be used by classroom teachers, curriculum specialists, administrators, measurements experts and evaluation specialists in a variety of ways many of which are addressed in this volume. Industrial-arts Magazine, 1928 How to Educate Students for a Technological Future Ari Alamäki, 1999 Research in Education, 1972 Designing Environments for Handicapped Children Gary T.
