

Adapters

“Leopard” Nexus Emulation Board 257BGA – 100TQ

Ordering code	IA257BGA100TQ-564XL
---------------	---------------------

Target CPU package: QFP100

Original microcontroller in the QFP100 package has no Nexus port at all which may be a significant drawback during the development and test process.

“Leopard” Nexus Emulation Adapter is based on the MPC5643L microcontroller in the BGA257 package (emulation device), which also exposes 12-bit Nexus port. The Emulation Adapter exhibits the same behaviour to the target as the original 100-pin microcontroller and additionally provides the Nexus port, which allows advanced functionalities like trace, profiler and code coverage.

A 100-pin solder part, which must be ordered separately under the IA100TQ-SOLDER ordering code, is soldered to the target (PCB) instead of populating the original microcontroller in a 100-pin QFP package. Then the Emulation Adapter, which acts as the original microcontroller and additionally provides debug Nexus port, is connected on top.

Contact iSYSTEM sales representative for more details on available Nexus tools.
