Spirit Possession in French, Haitian, and Vodou Thought Alessandra Benedicty-Kokken, 2014-11-12 This book recuperates the important history that Haitian thought around Vodou possession has had in French critical theory. The author takes the period of the 1930s and 40s as the centerfold of a more complex network of relations that places Haiti as one of the pivots of a more expanded intellectual conversation around possession which links anthropology literature psychoanalysis human rights and visual arts in France Haiti and the United States. Benedicty argues that Haiti as the anthropological other serves as a kick starter to an entire French based theoretical apparatus. Breton Leiris Bataille de Certeau Foucault and Butler but once up and running its role as catalyst is forgotten and the multiple iterations of the anthropological other are cast back into the net of Michel Rolph Trouillot's Savage slot. The book offers the reader unfamiliar with Haiti a comprehensive interdisciplinary study of twentieth and early twenty first century Haitian thought including a detailed timeline of important moments in the intellectual history that connects Haiti to France and the United States. The first part of the book is about global dispossessions in the first decades of the twentieth century the second part points to how the narratives of Haiti are intimately linked to a Franco U S American discursive space constructed over the course of the twentieth century a discursive order that has conflated the representation of Haiti with an understanding of Vodou primarily as an occult religion and not as a philosophical system. The third and fourth parts of the book examine how the novels of Ren Depestre Jean Claude Fignol and Kettly Mars have revisited the notion of possession since the fall of the Duvalier dictatorships.

Knight-Errant Edna Lyall, 1891 Operas in English: A Dictionary Margaret Ross Griffel, 2012-12-21 In this revised and expanded edition of Operas in English: A Dictionary Margaret Ross Griffel updates her work on operas written specifically to an English text including not only works originally in English but also those set to new English librettos. Since the book's initial publication in 1999 Griffel has added nearly 900 new items bringing the total number of entries in this new edition to 4 400 covering the world of opera in English from 1634 through 2011. The front matter includes a brief history of English opera to set the stage for the dictionary entries that follow. Listed alphabetically each opera entry includes alternative titles a full descriptive title the number of acts composer's name librettist's name with original language of the libretto the source of the text date place and cast of the first performance date of composition if it occurred substantially earlier than the premiere similar information for the first U S including colonial and British England Scotland Wales performances brief plot summary main characters names and vocal ranges where known names of noteworthy numbers comments on special musical problems and techniques other settings of the text including non English ones other operas if any involving the same story or characters cross references are indicated by asterisks. Entries include such information as first and critical editions of the score and libretto a bibliography ranging from scholarly studies to more informal journal articles and reviews a discography and information on video recordings. Operas in English features four appendixes a selective bibliography and two indexes. The first appendix lists composers their places and years of birth and death and their operas included in the text as entries the second does the same for librettists the third records authors whose works inspired or were adapted for the librettos and the fourth comprises a chronological listing of the A Z entries including the date of first performance the city of the premiere or composition date if unperformed or performed much later the short title of the opera and the composer There is a main character index and an index of singers conductors producers composers of other settings and other key figures
