Migrant Care Workers Searching For New Horizons:

Migrant Care Workers Dr Karen Christensen, Dr Ingrid Guldvik, 2014-10-28 Cristensen and Guldvik's Migrant Care Workers provides insight to the historical context for public care work and shows how migration policies, general welfare and long term care policies as well as cultural differences in values in the UK and Norway set the context for how migrant care workers can realise their individual life projects. The authors discuss what might be called a new type of migrant one who is neither a victim of the divide between the global north and the global south nor someone leaving family behind but individuals using care work as a part of their own life project of potential self improvement.

Decolonial Politics in European Peripheries Sanja S. Petkovska, 2023-12-12 Decolonial Politics in European Peripheries Redefining Progressiveness Coloniality and Transition Efforts is a timely contribution to the project of theorizing Europe through decolonial perspectives on the Left as the European and global crisis has prompted new reflections on what it means to sit still at the European peripheries. The book explores how the joint scholarship efforts of postcolonial and postsocialist scholars might come up with better grounded and more detailed theoretical and methodological insights into the process of globalization and subsequent peripheralization if framed under a progressive and leftist perspective. The authors, many from the South East Europe region, use a variety of analytical lenses to demonstrate how the nexus of postcolonial postsocialist area studies and progressive developmental political thought could inspire changes in the future which are in dissonance with neoliberal and neoconservative capitalism. As the side effects of global capitalism continue to accelerate, scholars and activists in the postsocialist periphery are increasingly turning to the concept of decoloniality in the hope that it might offer more options on how to begin to build up their framework. This book offers numerous examples of how decolonial theory can be applied to activist work in the fight against austerity and neoliberalization as well as examples of how decolonial critique can be mobilized to contest processes of Europeanization and Euro Atlantic integration. This book will intrigue students and scholars of critical social scholarship in general as well as postsocialism and postcolonialism, critiques of right populism and the rise of white nationalism in Europe and those studying the regions of South Eastern Europe and Eurasia more generally. It will also interest activists, organizers, decision makers, policy analysts and leftists both in the region and internationally.

The Oxford Handbook of Family Policy Over the Life Course Mary Daly, Birgit Pfau-Effinger, Neil Gilbert, Douglas J. Besharov, 2023 Drawing on a multidisciplinary group of experts from many countries, this Handbook is intended to be a reference work that provides students and scholars in policy related disciplines a wide ranging perspective on the diverse ways that family policies respond to modern issues and trends over the life course. The Handbook is divided into two main parts. The first part offers a panoramic introduction to the setting and issues which contemporary family policies have been designed to address. The second part, and main body of the volume, is organized around four benchmark periods that encompass the main stages of the family life cycle and social policies that are called into play during these stages.

Fathers and Sons J. Brannen, 2016-04-30 This book explores how masculinities and fatherhood are transmitted across family generations of white British Irish and Polish fathers Providing unique insights into men s lives migration employment father son relationships and intergenerational transmission it offers a rich methodological story of how intergenerational research is done

Transnational Social Work Allen Bartley, Liz Beddoe, 2018-02-07 This unique book provides an international comparison of labour markets migrant professionals and immigration policies and their interaction in relation to social work Case studies based on the latest research from the UK Ireland Canada New Zealand and Australia allow readers to make critical comparisons and gain understanding of the global nature of the social work profession Detailed analysis covers the opportunities and challenges presented by labour market mobility the implications for social justice and discussion of the experiences and perceptions of transnational social workers Essential reading for social work educators academics and professionals this book will also inform the development of relevant policy professional and educational responses to the phenomenon of transnational social work mobility

Overlapping Inequalities in the Welfare State Başak Akkan, Julia Hahmann, Christine Hunner-Kreisel, Melanie Kuhn, 2024-06-18 The volume stresses the relevance of the intersectionality framework in welfare state analysis by examining overlapping inequalities within the shifting institutional boundaries and organisational processes across diverse welfare settings The volume explores the strengths and challenges of theoretical and methodological approaches to intersectionality addressing its spatial temporal and comparative dimensions It therefore adopts a critical and process focused approach while recognising the agency of individuals as subjects of state policies The contributions critically build the link between intersectionality and other theoretical frameworks and research paradigms including Marxist social reproduction theory critical race studies Bourdieuan analysis of class critical geography childhood queer migration and disability studies The contributions provide insights into the institutional realms of health education social services and care work and examine state practices of racial profiling and policing in distinct welfare states Overall the contributions illustrate the strengths of the intersectionality framework in empirical inquiries while providing critical reflections on its limitations Readers across a diverse array of social science disciplines will find this book valuable

Support Work Relationships Deborah Luise Lutz, 2020-03-03 Deborah Luise Lutz explores support work relationships the relationships between people with intellectual disabilities in receipt of a personal budget and their support workers Through the methodology of Institutional Ethnography she specifically investigates how personal budget policies that organize support work in Germany and Australia influence support work relationships She found that the policies of personal budgets are connected to people s views and expectations about the support work relationship and the support work context that influence the relationship The author argues that disability research policy and practice need to be cognisant of this interconnection to improve the quality of support work relationships
