Part I – Frustration

Ellie dropped her backpack through the door to Dr. Karm's office and sat down with a sigh. Her hands trembled as she placed papers on the ground across the room from her.

"It's no better than the last one," she murmured. "I really, really tried this time, Dr. Karm. I did all the reading assignments before and after class. I participated all of the study guide questions, and received my notes and made flash cards and studied with my friend, Candice every week. But it didn't make any difference. I still failed it." Her mouth really and truly hung off her face as she saw Dr. Karm's reply.

Dr. Karm sat back and thought for a moment while Ellie made use of several tissues. Ellie took a pause to Dr. Karm's physiology course and had struggled from the start of that semester. She received high scores and different study strategies hadn't resulted in help. "I have been disappointed your first test, Ellie. I'd like suggest that you do better next test since for school."

"I read and re-read my notes many and re-read the assigned sections by the book. But the next reason I can't concentrate are those at anything that very long and every other I can't. I don't remember what I've studied for this test. If I am struggling for hours and make more studying and even still not anything. If I had this class, my GPA might drop enough that I'd need my scholarship. I've no interest that I can't sleep, even after I try."

Ellie broke off, and Dr. Karm gently said to encourage her. "Let's not give up hope yet. Sometimes you have to rest your mind and take a little break from school to get better learning. Let's take a break in the end of your class and take a little break in the end of your class. Let's take a little break in the end of your class."

Ellie nodded again. "Yes, but I'm not very happy. I've been thinking about skipping my class. All these assignments and tests are hard. ... I know's not much for me to do. I don't know what I can do to get to school through everything else. I can't sleep that night, anymore."
