Proceedings of the 2nd UPY International Conference on Education and Social Science \(UPINCESS 2023\) Ari Kusuma Wardana, 2023-12-31 This is an open access book

Technology has had a huge impact on education and social dynamics around the world. Since the introduction of information and communication technologies (ICTs) such as the internet, smartphones, and social media, much has changed in the way we learn and interact with others. In education, technology has enabled students and teachers to access more diverse and engaging educational resources. With internet access, students and teachers can access educational resources from all over the world and learn about various topics and disciplines. In addition, technology also enables distance learning, which allows students and teachers to connect from different locations. However, there are also negative impacts of using technology in education. For example, excessive use of social media and the internet can cause concentration disorders and addiction in students. In addition, too much reliance on technology can also reduce students' ability to think critically and solve problems independently. In social dynamics, technology has allowed us to connect with people from all over the world and paved the way for greater collaboration and cultural exchange. However, technology has also brought negative impacts on social dynamics, such as the spread of fake news or hoaxes, cyberbullying, and social media addiction. In this regard, technology can be a very useful tool if used wisely and with proper understanding of its impact. Therefore, to support this, Universitas PGRI Yogyakarta held an international conference and Call for Papers: The 2nd UPY International Conference on Education and Social Science (UPINCESS: The Impact of Technology on Education and Social Dynamics) on September 27, 2023. The conference aims to discuss in depth about the impact of technology on education and social dynamics, as well as finding appropriate solutions and strategies to minimize its negative impact and maximize its benefits. Experts, researchers, and practitioners in the field of education and technology from around the world can share their knowledge and experience in this conference and can encourage collaboration and innovation in this field.

Problem Posing and Solving for Mathematically Gifted and Interested Students Deniz Sarikaya, Lukas Baumanns, Karl Heuer, Benjamin Rott, 2023-09-29. Mathematics and mathematics education research have an ongoing interest in improving our understanding of mathematical problem posing and solving. This book focuses on problem posing in a context of mathematical giftedness. The contributions particularly address where such problems come from, what properties they should have, and which differences between school mathematics and more complex kinds of mathematics exist. These perspectives are examined internationally, allowing for cross-national insights.

Numerical Development - From cognitive functions to neural underpinnings Korbinian Moeller, Elise Klein, Klaus F. Willmes - von Hinckeldey, Karin Kucian, 2015-02-24. Living at the beginning of the 21st century requires being numerate because numerical abilities are not only essential for life prospects of individuals but also for economic interests of post-industrial knowledge societies. Thus, numerical development is at the core of both individual as well as societal interests. There is the notion that we are already born with a very basic ability to deal with small numerosities. Yet this often-called number sense seems to be very restricted, approximate, and driven by perceptual constraints. During our numerical development in formal (e.g., school) but also informal contexts (e.g., family, street), we acquire culturally developed abstract symbol systems to represent exact numerosities in particular number words and Arabic digits refining our numerical capabilities In recent years numerical development has gained increasing research interest documented in a growing number of behavioural neuro scientific educational cross cultural and neuropsychological studies addressing this issue Additionally our understanding of how numerical competencies develop has also benefitted considerably from the advent of different neuro imaging techniques allowing for an evaluation of developmental changes in the human brain In sum we are now starting to put together a more and more coherent picture of how numerical competencies develop and how this development is associated with neural changes as well In the end this knowledge might also lead to a better understanding of the reasons for atypical numerical development which often has grievous consequences for those who suffer from developmental dyscalculia or mathematics learning disabilities Therefore this Research Topic deals with all aspects of numerical development findings from behavioural performance to underlying neural substrates from cross sectional to longitudinal evaluations from healthy to clinical populations To this end we included empirical contributions using different experimental methodologies but also theoretical contributions review articles or opinion papers

Executive Function and Education

Mariëtte Huizinga, Dieter Baeyens, Jacob A. Burack, 2018-09-21 Executive function is an umbrella term for various cognitive processes that are central to goal directed behavior thoughts and emotions These processes are especially important in novel or demanding situations which require a rapid and flexible adjustment of behavior to the changing demands of the environment The development of executive function relies on the maturation of associated brain regions as well as on stimulation in the child's social contexts especially the home and school Over the past decade the term executive function has become a buzzword in the field of education as both researchers and educators underscore the importance of skills like goal setting planning and organizing in academic success Accordingly in initiating this Research Topic and eBook our goal was to provide a forum for state of the art theoretical and empirical work on this that both facilitates communication among researchers from diverse fields and provides a theoretically sound source of information for educators The contributors to this volume who hail from several different countries in Europe and North America have certainly accomplished this goal in their nuanced and cutting edge depictions of the complex links among various executive function components and educational success
