Anderson,2021-04-01 How can markets help us adapt to the challenges of climate change Editor Terry L Anderson brings together this collection of essays featuring the work of nine leading policy analysts who argue that market forces are just as important as government regulation in shaping climate policy and should be at the heart of our response to helping societies adapt to climate change Anderson notes in his introduction that most current climate policies such as the Paris Agreement require hard to enforce collective action and focus on reducing or mitigating greenhouse gases rather than adapting to their negative effects Adaptive actions can typically deliver much more faster and more cheaply than any realistic climate policy The authors tackle a range of issues the hidden costs of renewable energy sources the political obstacles surrounding climate change policy insurance and financial instruments for pricing risk of exposure to the effects of climate change and more Reliance on emerging renewable energies and a carbon tax are not enough to prevent the effects of global warming they argue We must encourage more private action and market incentives to adapt to a rapidly changing climate     Yearbook of International Organizations 2013-2014 (Volumes 1a-1b) Union Of International Associations,Union of International Associations,2013-06-21 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events     The Mining World Index of Current Literature ,1915     Journal of Physical Education and Research ,2013-02     International Catalogue of Scientific Literature ,1906     Social Welfare ,2013-04     Collectanea Mathematica ,2013     The United States Catalog Mary Burnham,Carol Hurd,1928     Scientific American ,1878     Science Abstracts ,1965     Canadian Books in Print ,1977     Physics Briefs ,1994     International Aerospace Abstracts ,1993
