National Competition Policy Report

David Baud

National Competition Policy Report:

National Competition Policy Jan Newby, Frederick George Hilmer, 1993 The Influence of National Competition Policy on the International Competitiveness of Nations Andreas Mitschke, 2008-05-05 Does every open economy profit from economic globalization Why do some countries profit more than others What role does national economic policy play with regard to a nation's potential to profit from economic globalization Is there a need for an international harmonization of economic policy in order to protect global competition and to prevent international conflicts or to the contrary is national economic policy a crucial and indispensable instrument for fostering the international competitiveness of an economy These questions were the starting point for a research project of the department of Economics at the University of Nuremberg in 2003 The intention was to take a fresh look at the various harmonization claims which have been raised both in economic literature and by politicians As politicians in general simultaneously also strive for enhancing the international competitiveness of their nation the project aimed at the relation between harmonization claims on the one hand and the competitiveness debate on the other The decision to set the focus of this project on the role of competition policy has been triggered against the background of the ongoing debate on international competition rules In October 2001 the International Competition Network ICN has been established in New York Furthermore the Doha Ministerial Declaration of November 2001 envisaged WTO negotiations on international competition rules Report on Competition Policy Commission of the European Communities, 2007 AP AIS 1994: Australian public affairs information service , Final Report South Australia. Parliament. House of Assembly. Economic and Finance Committee, 2005 National Competition Policy Frederick George Hilmer, INDEPENDENT COMMITTEE OF INQUIRY INTO A NATIONAL COMPETITION POLICY (Australia), 1993 Economic Analysis and Policy , 1995 The Interplay between European and National Competition Law after Regulation 1/2003 Lúcio Tomé Feteira, 2015-12-08 If we can speak of the European Community's economic constitution we can assert that competition rules together with free movement rules form its core Notably implementation of the competition rules enshrined in Articles 81 and 82 EC changed radically with the enactment of Regulation 1 2003 which in effect dispensed with mandatory prior notifications and allowed national authorities to apply Article 101 3 TFEU directly Given that national legislations perceive certain types of unilateral conduct even if adopted by a non dominant undertaking as a potential source of anticompetitive effects an important question concerns the leeway enjoyed by national authorities under the exception to the convergence rule in Article 3 2 of Regulation 1 2003 and the consequent effect on both legal practice and policy issues In this lucidly argued book focusing on national competition provisions in Germany France Italy and the United Kingdom that deal with such conduct the author provides a detailed examination of how such considerations as the following are affected by Regulation 1 2003 prohibition of abuse of economic dependence or superior bargaining power the particular susceptibility of long term contracts prohibition of resale at a loss or below cost prohibition of boycott unlawful pressures threats and other coercive tactics adopted by undertakings and the role of unfair competition law The analysis follows a functional method of comparative legal analysis reviewing the most relevant norms in the selected jurisdictions particularly in what concerns their goals and function in the context of their respective legal systems Special attention is paid to two specific sectors the motor vehicle and the retailing industries which have most often triggered relevant legislation and case law in the jurisdictions covered Legal scholarship in the field is also drawn upon In its clarification of the meaning of Regulation 1 2003 this book allows practitioners to fully grasp its scope The author's thorough masterful analysis of the statutory framework of Article 3 of the regulation also reveals the variety of reasons why different Member States have different competition policies on the scope of the exception to the rule of convergence and in this way provides lawyers policymakers and academics with welcome insights on how major EU jurisdictions apply European competition law Hilmer Report Joy Selby Smith, Frederick George Hilmer, 1995 This paper examines the implications of the Report of the Independent Committee of Inquiry into a national competition policy the Hilmer Report for the vocational education and training system in Australia It identifies issues of importance for training markets and points of strategic intervention to facilitate the development of more open and competitive markets consistent with the principles of the proposed policy Part 1 reviews the Report of the Hilmer Inquiry and its main findings and recommendations It examines the competitive conduct rules contained in the Commonwealth Trade Practices Act 1974 and additional policy elements associated with building a more competitive economy Government responses to the Hilmer Report are summarized Part 2 considers the concept of a training market in the context of the approaches adopted by the Hilmer Committee Part 3 provides an assessment of the relevance of the Hilmer proposals for the development of more open and competitive training markets considered in two parts those which relate to part IV of the Trade Practices Act which spell out the competitive conduct rules and those which relate to the additional policy elements outlined in part 1 structural reform of public monopolies regulatory restrictions on competition access to essential facilities monopoly pricing and competitive neutrality Part 4 summarizes the opportunities for strategic intervention by policy YLB Supplement to the Report on Competition Policy 2005 European Communities Commission, 2007 This annual report reviews the work of the European Commission to monitor and ensure promotion of competition in the EU single market and policy developments This report covers the year 2005 and information is given under the following headings anti trust rules merger control state aid control international activities including enlargement bilateral and multilateral co operation and the outlook for 2006 in these areas The publication also contains summaries of cases regarding the application of EU competition rules in these subject areas This publication comprises two volumes the report and a supplement The Federal Law Reports, 1997 Competition Policy Australia.
