Measuring Angles Performance Task

Alfred S Posamentier, Beverly Smith

Measuring Angles Performance Task:

Performance Assessment Brian McLean Semple, 1992 The second International Assessment of Educational Progress focused on the mathematics and science achievement of 13 year olds Performance assessments were used as part of the overall assessment in four countries England Scotland Soviet Union and Taiwan and five Canadian provinces The performance assessment approach drew heavily on the experience of the United Kingdom in such assessments but added features to meet the needs of an international study The performance tasks required students to apply concepts observe measure manipulate equipment and materials and record and interpret data Approximately 3 000 students participated in the 1991 mathematics and science assessments Scores varied widely from task to task and from country to country Relative performance of countries and provinces generally differed from those identified by written curriculum based tests A major lesson learned from the experimental test administration is that this form of performance assessment can be used reliably in international comparative studies although at an estimated cost three to four times greater than that for an equivalent number of written test questions Sample mathematics and science tasks are included and there is an appendix on problem solving in mathematics that describes outcomes produced by Scottish students SLD

Maintenance Management of Wind Turbines Fausto Pedro García Márquez, 2020-12-06 Maintenance Management of Wind Turbines considers the main concepts and the state of the art as well as advances and case studies on this topic Maintenance is a critical variable in industry in order to reach competitiveness It is the most important variable together with operations in the wind energy industry Therefore the correct management of corrective predictive and preventive politics in any wind turbine is required The content also considers original research works that focus on content that is complementary to other sub disciplines such as economics finance marketing decision and risk analysis engineering etc in the maintenance management of wind turbines This book focuses on real case studies These case studies concern topics such as failure detection and diagnosis fault trees and subdisciplines e g FMECA FMEA etc Most of them link these topics with financial schedule resources downtimes etc in order to increase productivity profitability maintainability reliability safety availability and reduce costs and downtime etc in a wind turbine Advances in mathematics models computational techniques dynamic analysis etc are employed in analytics in maintenance management in this book Finally the book considers computational techniques dynamic analysis probabilistic methods and mathematical optimization techniques that are expertly blended to support the analysis of multi criteria decision making problems with defined constraints and requirements

Designing Learning Environments for Developing Understanding of Geometry and Space Richard Lehrer, Daniel Chazan, 2012-11-12 This volume reflects an appreciation of the interactive roles of subject matter teacher student and technologies in designing classrooms that promote understanding of geometry and space Although these elements of geometry education are mutually constituted the book is organized to highlight first the editors vision of a general geometry education second the development of student thinking in everyday and classroom contexts and third the role of technologies Rather than looking to high school geometry as the locus and all too often the apex of geometric reasoning the contributors to this volume suggest that reasoning about space can and should be successfully integrated with other forms of mathematics starting at the elementary level and continuing through high school Reintegrating spatial reasoning into the mathematical mainstream indeed placing it at the core of K 12 mathematics environments that promote learning with understanding will mean increased attention to problems in modeling structure and design and reinvigoration of traditional topics such as measure dimension and form Further the editors position is that the teaching of geometry and spatial visualization in school should not be compressed into a characterization of Greek geometry but should include attention to contributions to the mathematics of space that developed subsequent to those of the Greeks This volume is essential reading for those involved in mathematics education at all levels including university faculty researchers and graduate students

Math Instruction for Students with Learning Difficulties Susan Perry Gurganus, 2021-11-29 This richly updated third edition of Math Instruction for Students with Learning Difficulties presents a research based approach to mathematics instruction designed to build confidence and competence in preservice and inservice PreK 12 teachers Referencing benchmarks of both the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and Common Core State Standards for Mathematics this essential text addresses teacher and student attitudes towards mathematics as well as language issues specific mathematics disabilities prior experiences and cognitive and metacognitive factors Chapters on assessment and instruction precede strands that focus on critical concepts Replete with suggestions for class activities and field extensions the new edition features current research across topics and an innovative thread throughout chapters and strands multi tiered systems of support as they apply to mathematics instruction

International Perspectives on the Teaching and Learning of Geometry in Secondary Schools Patricio Herbst,Ui Hock Cheah,Philippe R. Richard,Keith Jones,2018-04-27

This book presents current perspectives on theoretical and empirical issues related to the teaching and learning of geometry at secondary schools It contains chapters contributing to three main areas A first set of chapters examines mathematical epistemological and curricular perspectives A second set of chapters presents studies on geometry instruction and teacher knowledge and a third set of chapters offers studies on geometry thinking and learning Specific research topics addressed also include teaching practice learning trajectories learning difficulties technological resources instructional design assessments textbook analyses and teacher education in geometry Geometry remains an essential and critical topic in school mathematics As they learn geometry students develop essential mathematical thinking and visualization skills and learn a language that helps them relate to and interact with the physical world Geometry has traditionally been included as a subject of study in secondary mathematics curricula but it has also featured as a resource in out of school problem solving and has been connected to various human activities such as sports games and artwork Furthermore geometry often plays a role in teacher preparation undergraduate mathematics and at the workplace New technologies including dynamic geometry software computer assisted design software and geometric positioning systems have provided more resources for teachers to design environments and tasks in which students can learn and use geometry In this context research on the teaching and learning of geometry will continue to be a key element on the research agendas of mathematics educators as researchers continue to look for ways to enhance student learning and to understand student thinking and teachers decision making
