This light will start flashing when the tank is near its finished state. This allows time to empty the tank out before the automatic filling starts again.

When the lamp arm starts to cycle, the light will go solid and stay solid until the lamp arm returns to its home position. At this time, the light will return to flashing until the bulb is replaced.

Both shape gauges show the shape of each end of the tube by measuring back in the two outside bells nearest the left-hand and right-hand side flanges. When the left-hand bell is tight, the left-hand gauge will read high in the green area showing that side of tube is filled with slag. As the gauge tube in the green area is into the red area, it follows that side of the tube needs to be bettered (left).
