Managing Biotechnology Francoise Simon, Glen Giovannetti, 2017-09-01 A comprehensive overview of the new business context for biopharma companies featuring numerous case studies and state of the art marketing models. Biotechnology has developed into a key innovation driver especially in the field of human healthcare. But as the biopharma industry continues to grow and expand its reach, development costs are colliding with aging demographics and cost containment policies of private and public payers. Concurrently the development and increased affordability of sophisticated digital technologies has fundamentally altered many industries including healthcare. The arrival of new information technology and biotech companies on the healthcare scene presents both opportunities and challenges for the biopharma business model. To capitalize on new digital technologies from R D through commercialization requires industry leaders to adopt new business models, develop new digital and data capabilities, and partner with innovators and payers worldwide. Written by two experts both of whom have had decades of experience in the field, this book provides a comprehensive overview of the new business context and marketing models for biotech companies. Informed by extensive input by senior biotech executives and leading consultancies serving the industry, it analyzes the strategies and key success factors for the financing, development, and commercialization of novel therapeutic products, including strategies for engagement with patients, physicians, and healthcare payers.
