Economic Aspects of Genocides, Other Mass Atrocities, and Their Prevention Charles H. Anderton, Jurgen Brauer, 2016-05-09 Alongside other types of mass atrocities genocide has received extensive scholarly policy and practitioner attention Missing however is the contribution of economists to better understand and prevent such crimes This edited collection by 41 accomplished scholars examines economic aspects of genocides other mass atrocities and their prevention Chapters include numerous case studies e g California s Yana people Australia s Aborigines peoples Stalin s killing of Ukrainians Belarus the Holocaust Rwanda DR Congo Indonesia Pakistan Colombia Mexico s drug wars and the targeting of suspects during the Vietnam war probing literature reviews and completely novel work based on extraordinary country specific datasets Also included are chapters on the demographic gendered and economic class nature of genocide Replete with research and policy relevant findings new insights are derived from behavioral economics law and economics political economy macroeconomic modeling microeconomics development economics industrial organization identity economics and other fields Analytical approaches include constrained optimization theory game theory and sophisticated statistical work in data mining econometrics and forecasting A foremost finding of the book concerns atrocity architects purposeful strategic use of violence often manipulating nonrational proclivities among ordinary people to sway their participation in mass murder Relatively understudied in the literature the book also analyzes the options of victims before during and after mass violence Further the book shows how well intended prevention efforts can backfire and increase violence how wrong post genocide design can entrench vested interests to reinforce exclusion of vulnerable peoples and how businesses can become complicit in genocide In addition to the necessity of healthy opportunities in employment education and key sectors in prevention work the book shows why new genocide prevention laws and institutions must be based on reformulated incentives that consider insights from law and economics behavioral economics and collective action economics How's Life? 2015 Measuring Well-being OECD, 2015-10-13 How s Life describes the essential ingredients that shape people s well being in OECD and partner countries It includes a wide variety of statistics capturing both material well being and quality of life This third edition includes a special focus on child well being Ukraine Over the Edge Gordon M. Hahn, 2018-02-08 The Ukrainian crisis that dominated headlines in fall 2013 was decades in the making Two great schisms shaped events one within Ukraine its western and southeastern parts divided along cultural and political lines the other was driven by geopolitical factors Competition between Russia and the West exacerbated Ukraine s divisions This study focuses on the historical background and complex causality of the crisis from the rise of mass demonstrations on Kiev s Maidan Nezalezhnosti Independence Square to the making of the post revolt regime In the context of a new cold war the author sheds light on the role of radical Ukrainian nationalists and neofascists in the February 2014 snipers massacre the ouster of President Viktor Yanukovich and Russia s seizure of Crimea and involvement in the civil war in the eastern region of Donbass The State of African Cities,

2014 United Nations Publications, 2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change

Exclusion and Inclusion in International Migration: Power, Resistance and Identity Armağan Teke Lloyd, 2019-04-30 People on the move face new barriers in a globalizing world Some of these barriers are related with the rise of an increasingly security oriented approach towards international migrants Notwithstanding the forces of globalization states have maintained their monopoly power over whom to admit and whom to deny within their borders In other words they remain the sovereign authority regulating the entry and exit of people However in recent years a number of states have singled out international immigration as the greatest political and social threat to their cultural and national security The securitization of immigration is founded upon the premise that the international movement of people represents an exceptional risk for the survival of the nation and this is often associated with terrorism instability and criminality The securitization of immigration is also based on the idea that the traditional authority vested in states to regulate immigration is somehow insufficient and needs to be enhanced These assumptions correspond with a real policy shift in some countries such as the United States where the government is planning to spend approximately 23 Billion Dollars on border security and immigration enforcement in 2019 alone This edited volume is an exploration of the global landscapes inhabited by refugees and labour migrants although the focus is largely on the former Despite the fact that most of the empirical studies are drawn from within Europe the book also includes research on Nepal Australia the Middle East and Japan in order to reveal the truly global dimensions of migration and the regimes governing this

The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Human Settlements Programme, 2013 Nairobi UN Habitat c2014 9789211325980 The Economics of the Global Defence Industry Keith Hartley, Jean Belin, 2019-11-08 This book makes an original contribution to our knowledge of the world's major defence industries. Experts from a wide range of different countries from the major economies of North America and Western Europe to developing economies and some unique cases such as China, India, Singapore, South Africa and North Korea describe and analyse the structure, conduct and performance of the defence industry in that country. Each chapter opens with statistics on a key nation's defence spending, its spending on defence R D and on procurement over the period 1980 to 2017, allowing for an analysis of industry changes following the end of the Cold War. After the facts of each industry, the authors describe and analyse the structure, conduct and performance of the industry. The analysis of structure includes discussions of entry conditions, domestic monopoly, oligopoly, structures and opportunities for competition. The section on conduct analyses price, non-price competition, including private and state-funded R D and performance, incorporates profitability, imports and exports, together with spin-offs and technical progress. The conclusion explores the future prospects for each nation's defence industry. Do defence industries have a future? What might the future defence firm and industry look like in 50 years' time? This volume is a vital resource and reference for anyone interested in defence economics, industrial economics, international relations, strategic studies and public procurement.

Industrial Development Report United Nations Publications,2016-01-14 This report looks at how technology and innovation achieves inclusive and sustainable industrial development ISID Its main finding is that ISID is feasible and technology can simultaneously serve all three dimensions of sustainability including economic social and environmental Rapid inclusive and sustainable industrialization can happen more frequently provided that policymakers firmly steer the industrialization process with opportune policies and avoid past mistakes In some cases the spread of technology has not materialized in concrete growth opportunities because of the lack of technological capabilities Innovation needs to be supported by interventions strengthening the process from invention to adoption as capabilities are developed and high tech manufacturing sectors are created seeing higher rates of sustainable growth
