Masterweb News Nigeria Report:

Conflict of Securities J. J. Abubakar,2010-04-30 Security has become a buzzword in political discourses in Africa and elsewhere especially since the terrorist attacks on America on 9 11 2001 and America s global responses to threat of terrorism Yet there persists a fundamental conflict of securities in Africa the security of the state and its governing elites versus the security of the people from a human and societal security point of view African elites and the general populace appear to have divergent notions of security For the governing elites security seems to be mainly about territorial sovereignty protection and patrimonialization of the state largesse while for the majority of the under privileged and middle class Africans security appears to be more about access to basic livelihood and farmland human capital improvement employment and wage matters protection from violence functional development infrastructures transport networks electricity clean water education etc as well as availability and affordability of essential services and amenities Africa s security contradictions and dilemma raise a number of urgent and compelling questions whose security matters most How has security been historically constructed and provided in Africa How have those who are alienated from the dominant security agendas responded to their conditions of insecurity What nexus of factors and interests influence security governance and politics in various African states and why And what are the domestic regional and international implications of the politics of security for Africa Nigeria's Critical Election John A. Ayoade,Adeoye A. Akinsanya,2012-11-29 Elections have been central to regime collapse in Nigeria because they neither passed the test of citizens acceptability nor electoral neutrality They always pushed the country to a dangerous brink which she has often survived after serious constitutional and political bruises The general election of 1964 rocked the delicate balance of the country resulting in the military coup of January 15 1966 and a thirty month civil war The subsequent effort of the military at restructuring the country did not go far enough to win the civic confidence of the people The military availed itself of another opportunity of tinkering with the system in 1993 However it demonstrated that it was not immune to civic dishonesty when it annulled the widely acclaimed free and fair presidential election in June 12 1993 By fits and starts Nigeria held another election in 1999 which was tolerated only because of citizens fatigue of military rule The elections of 2003 and 2007 were classic examples of make belief democracy The feeding of inequity and if you will domination persisted A combination of fortune trickery and arm twisting produced a power shift in favour of Dr Goodluck Ebele Azikwe Jonathan in April 2011 The subsequent attempt by the north to create a strategic consensus did not save it from being pushed into fringe politics forcing some of its spokespersons to vow that they will make governance impossible The election was better than the worst but much still remains to be done

The Republic of Biafra: Once Upon a Time in Nigeria Dr. Onyema G. Nkwocha,2010-10-26 Not quite four months after the Western Region s election of October 10 1965 did the localized mayhem in that Region find its way furiously into the center of the nation on January 15 1966 It was like a whirl wind of nothing but anarchy and lawlessness The serious aftermath of the marred and rigged election was that it acted as the last straw that broke the Carmel s back providing immediate reason for the army to overthrow the government of Dr Nnamdi Azikiwe Anarchy ensued a counter coup led to the death of Major General Ironsi Callous barbarous massacre of thousands of easterners in the North followed With their lives in jeopardy easterners fled for safety to eastern region refugee crisis followed To guarantee their safety easterners seceded from Nigeria and on May 30th 1967 formed an independent and sovereign nation of the Republic of Biafra Determined to bring Easterners back on July 6 1967 Nigeria invaded Biafra waged a gruesome thirty month civil war against Biafra Nigeria blockaded Biafra on land sea and air to prevent food from entering Biafra A malnutrition disease Kwashiorkor that caused the deaths of thousands of Biafrans followed Nigeria bombed Biafran civilians killing thousands On January 12 1970 the war ended leaving more than three million people dead in a war that was totally avoidable Seeking Viable Grassroots Representation Mechanisms in African Constitutions Charles Mwalimu,2009 In this book Charles Mwalimu explores viable grassroots representation mechanisms in African constitutions in order to positively integrate indigenous and modern systems in Sub Saharan Africa A comparative study method is used to examine the constitutional principles of chieftaincy and local government and their impact on human rights To establish and prove lack of positive integration Mwalimu connects this failure to poor constitutionalism development and stultified growth and human rights violations This book proposes remedial actions to build nondiscriminatory constitutional regimes eradicating violations of human rights Bringing International Fugitives to Justice David A. their immediate region of Africa and other non Western parts of the world the sources were often the same leading news agencies from the West The image of the world the newspapers convey to their readers is essentially that created by the dominant Western news agencies The constructs made by these agencies are not value free but often correspond to their own interests that of their countries or the ideologies to which they subscribe in their definition of the world The News Agency of Nigeria Olatunji Dare,1983 Understanding the Newspaper Business in Nigeria Godfrey Naanlang Danaan,David Jowitt,Taye C.
