

Chapter 1

How Management Accounting Information Supports Decision Making

QUESTIONS

- 1-1 Management accounting is a discipline that designs planning and performance measurement systems, using financial and nonfinancial information, to help an organization develop and implement its strategy. The information must be relevant and helpful, and customized to serve multiple purposes, such as making decisions, allocating resources, and monitoring, evaluating, and rewarding performance. Information for the “plan” and “do” steps of the PDCA cycle includes prospective data on costs, profits, efficiency, and quality associated with alternative ways to produce or provide goods or services. Information for the “check” and “act” steps includes assessments of how well the organization is achieving its objectives. Common information requirements include measures of cost, quality, profitability, and timeliness.
- 1-2 Two examples of financial management accounting information are the cost of producing a product and the cost of delivering a service. Measures related to customer satisfaction and loyalty and innovation are two examples of non-financial management accounting information.
- 1-3 Both the disciplines of financial accounting and management accounting are based on quantitative information about an entity’s operations. However, these two disciplines can be differentiated as follows:
- Financial accounting is retrospective in nature while management accounting is both retrospective and prospective in nature.
 - Financial accounting is primarily oriented towards external stake-holders such as investors, creditors, and regulators. On the other hand, the discipline of management accounting is oriented towards meeting the decision making needs of the parties who are internal to the organization, namely managers and employees.
 - Financial accounting has to be consistent with the rules framed by the standard setters and the regulatory authorities. Management accounting is

Management Accounting Professor Carsten Berkau, 2020-04-20 Management Accounting is written for students in international Business Management study programs. It covers the widely applied syllabus of Cost Accounting and Management Accounting at universities on bachelor's and master's level. The book is based on more than 20 years academic teaching experience in Germany and at international universities in South Africa, Malaysia, China, the Netherlands and South Korea. In this text book the application of methods and instruments comes first. Management Accounting follows a case study based approach. All cases are taken from previous exam papers and explained in detail. The text book starts with a case study of a manufacturing company and compares Financial Accounting to Management Accounting. It covers two points of view: 1. a General Management view with aspects of business planning, cost-volume-profit analysis, degree of operating leverage, mergers and cross border acquisitions and risk valuation. 2. a Cost Accounting view with Management Accounting systems, flexible budgeting, cost allocations, performance measurement and monitoring, reporting, calculation, manufacturing accounting, job order and process costing, activity based costing and multi-level contribution margin Accounting. On the UVK website numerous exam tasks and complete solutions thereto are available in English. Hospitality Management Accounting, 6e Student Workbook Michael M. Coltman, 1998 CRUCIAL ACCOUNTING SKILLS FOR THE HOSPITALITY PROFESSIONAL. In the fast growing and increasingly competitive hospitality industry every business is under extreme pressure to maximize revenue and minimize costs simply to maintain existing profit levels. Hospitality Management Accounting Seventh Edition gives students a firm grounding in the fundamental concepts and analytical techniques they will need as professionals to take direct control of an accounting system and evaluate the effectiveness of current and past operations. Filled with case studies, expanded exercise and problem sections and alternative solution sets that provide multiple problem solving approaches, this updated new edition is the only text in the field that covers credit card receivables. It features an extensive review of accounting systems and a special section on the use of computers in the hospitality industry. Important topics covered in this text include: Understanding, analyzing and interpreting financial statements, Ratio analysis and internal control, The bottom up approach to pricing, Cost management and the cost-volume-profit approach to decisions, Operations budgeting and cash budgeting, Statement of cash flows and working capital. Hospitality Management Accounting Seventh Edition equips hospitality management and culinary students with the skills they need to take command of one of the most crucial aspects of the management of any hospitality business. The Management Accountant, 1973
