

Narrative Childhood Story

When I was a kid, I was living in West Roxbury small town near Boston, Massachusetts. I had many events happen in life, some good and some not so good but in the end it was a learning experience and part of my history. At the age of 7, I was sent to another country to live with my grandmother in South America. I had to leave my family due to medical reasons that my mother was going through. Many things were hard, but taking that experience has made me realize that good things can come out of what was then a bad experience in the beginning.

Trying to adapt to a new school, new friends, new environment, new family in the sense that I didn't have my parents with me, wasn't what I was used to but what did I know about that I was only 7 years old although if my memory serves me well, it was somewhat hard but not impossible to adapt to. Change is not an easy thing to adapt to especially if life has been a routine; it's a cycle of experiences that with every step we go in life.

It was hard to adapt to another language and with that came a lot of stress in a young child's life but through studying and learning I adapted to the language and finally made my way to understanding the Spanish language. In school it was tough to communicate with other kids as pretty much our own sign language had to suffice for a certain amount of time until I was able to speak in Spanish somewhat good. Grades in my report card were all red, which meant they were low but understandably so if Spanish was my second language.

Though there was struggle with that alone, I also had a hard time adapting to my grandmother's ways; I was used to my parents and it was a hard transition to get used to even though I was so young. I missed my parents but thank goodness my family was around and my cousins and some great friends cause they were around my age and I had a lot of fun playing with them for my whole stay there. I wish that I could go back and to relive at least one day from my childhood, when I was always feeling that I was safe, when my friends, family members, and I were living day by day and we were not planning for anything to happen the day after.

We didn't know what's meant by hater and, we didn't realize hearted people who talk bad about us behind our backs and, they just give a smile on their face. Even money were just papers for me but, nowadays people can kill to earn money. Some say it's considered a money hungry society. All people now are racing for money. I would like to take it back and lay on my old bed as I used to sleep, when I just put my head on my pillow I didn't care about anything, I didn't hate anybody.

I really wanted to relive just one day of my childhood, it was fun, real fun. There are a lot of lessons. Through my experience of going to a new country and adapting the way of life, the language and school, I was able to thank my parents and my family for a wonderful experience that has taught me a

The Vital Interpretation of English Literature John Smith Harrison, 1928      Writing First with Readings Laurie G. Kirszner, Stephen R. Mandell, 2011-12-28 Best selling authors and veteran college writing instructors Laurie Kirszner and Stephen Mandell believe that students learn to write best when they use their own writing as a starting point In Writing First with Readings Practice in Context designed for the paragraph to essay course Kirszner and Mandell take seriously the ideas and expressive abilities of developmental students as well as their need to learn the rules of writing and grammar Visual writing prompts that open every chapter get students writing immediately By moving frequently between their own writing writing models and instruction and workbook style mastery exercises students get constant reinforcement of the skills they are learning Thoughtful chapters on college success research and critical reading along with high interest essays round out the text making it the perfect introduction to college writing Read the preface      The Ecstatic Quotidian Jennifer Anna Gosetti-Ferencei, 2010-11 Fascination with quotidian experience in modern art literature and philosophy promotes ecstatic forms of reflection on the very structure of the everyday world Gosetti Ferencei examines the ways in which modern art and literature enable a study of how we experience quotidian life She shows that modernism while exhibiting many strands of development can be understood by investigating how its attentions to perception and expectation to the common quality of things or to childhood play gives way to experiences of ecstasis the stepping outside of the ordinary familiarity of the world While phenomenology grounds this study through Husserl Heidegger Merleau Ponty and Bachelard what makes this book more than a treatise on phenomenological aesthetics is the way in which modernity itself is examined in its relation to the quotidian Through the works of artists and writers such as Benjamin C zanne Frost Klee Newman Pollock Ponge Proust Rilke Robbe Grillet Rothko Sartre and Twombly the world of quotidian life can be seen to harbor a latent ecstasis The breakdown of the quotidian through and after modernism then becomes an urgent question for understanding art and literature in its capacity to further human experience and it points to the limits of phenomenological explications of the everyday

Memory Matters Caroline Schaumann, 2008-08-27 Memory Matters juxtaposes in tripartite structure texts by a child of German bystanders Wolf an Austrian Jewish child survivor Kl ger a daughter of Jewish migr s Honigmann a daughter of an officer involved in the German resistance Bruhns a granddaughter of a baptized Polish Jew Maron and a granddaughter of German refugees from East Prussia D ckers Placed outside of the distorting victim perpetrator Jewish German man woman and war postwar binary it becomes visible that the texts neither complete nor contradict each other but respond to one another by means of inspiration reverberation refraction incongruity and ambiguity Focusing on genealogies of women the book delineates a different cultural memory than the counting of male inflected generations and a male dominated Holocaust and postwar literature canon It examines intergenerational conflicts and the negotiation of memories against the backdrop of a complicated mother daughter relationship that follows unpredictable patterns and provokes both discord and empathy

Schaumann's approach questions the assumption that German gentile and German Jewish postwar experiences are necessarily diametrically opposed i.e. respond to a negative symbiosis and uncovers intersections and continuities in addition to conflicts

Nostalgic memories. Perspective and perspectival changes in text and film of "A Child's Christmas in Wales" Manü Mohr, 2013-11-26 Seminar paper from the year 2013 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Culture and Applied Geography grade 1.5 University of Stuttgart course Cultural Seminar language English abstract Christmas that magic blanket that wraps itself about us that something so intangible that it is like a fragrance It may weave a spell of nostalgia Christmas may be a day of feasting or of prayer but always it will be a day of remembrance a day in which we think of everything we have ever loved This quote by Augusta E. Rundel illustrates so well the innermost feelings of the speaker in Dylan Thomas' A Child's Christmas in Wales who reminisces about the most beautiful time of the year he passed with family and friends However he does not just recount facts in an emotionally detached way and it is the aim of this term paper to analyze the confounding of the adult and the child speaker that is the former being entirely plunged in his memories surrounding him like a fragrance he seems to actually be the child he was reliving some scenes again First of all after having given some information about the text version of Thomas' work I will introduce Gérard Genette's theory of narratology and mainly focus on the distinction between narration and focalization This subtle difference as well as other terminology referring to the question of perspective is very enriching as it permits to localize the narrator's point of view and involvement to understand the story's organization and eventually to reflect on the how and why of the blurring of boundaries between the adult speaker of the here and now at the moment of speaking and the child speaker experiencing the events I will argue that those two are intertwined with several gradations more or less explicit in text and film Next the way of narrating the style and linguistic issues will be examined in order to attribute certain expressions or sentence structures either rather to the adult or to the child Of course it is not always possible to draw a clear cut line but nevertheless there are passages which I believe to be revealing when arguing in favor of a perspective It is crucial not to forget that the latter does not stay static but that we can detect shifts of position throughout the story This gives reason to dwell on some scenes in further detail The second part of my work will deal with the film A Child's Christmas in Wales As above I will begin with some general remarks then I would like to investigate the impact of the camera position because a stage director by means of making different choices concerning distance or angle of vision can influence the speaker
