The Handbook for Market Research for Life Sciences Companies Jean-Francois Denault, 2017-09-19 As innovation moves from the lab to the market a new research phase begins for the entrepreneur the market research phase Inspired by a new technology that can change the world critical questions need to be addressed Is there a market for my innovation Who are my clients What do they need Is my innovation filling that gap in the market Who are my competitors How are they approaching the market If these questions are unanswered entrepreneurs meet potential investors or partners with only a basic understanding of their market The objective of this book is to fill this gap It is a practical manual that gives entrepreneurs real world advice and tools to build a solid market model The book provides tips models and tools entrepreneurs can use to collect interpret and present their market and integrate it into their business plan What the entrepreneur learns in this book will help him throughout his journey After going over the market research process he will learn how to design and use a number of market research tools and how to adapt them in a life science context From building a web survey to preparing interviews to doing your own secondary research this handbook will help him gain a comprehensive understanding of how to perform his own market research activities and how to analyze his data Finally a number of frameworks such as the TAM SAM SOM as well as the KANO Model are described so that he can efficiently share what he has learned using models that simply yet effectively shares findings

White Paper on Science and Technology

,2015 Understanding West Africa's Ebola Epidemic Ibrahim Abdullah, Ismail Rashid, 2017-10-15 From 2013 to 2015 over 11 000 people across West Africa lost their lives to the deadliest outbreak of the Ebola virus in history. Crucially, this epidemic marked the first time the virus was able to spread beyond rural areas to major cities, overturning conventional assumptions about its epidemiology. With backgrounds ranging from development to disease control, the contributors to this volume, some of them based in countries affected by the Ebola epidemic, consider the underlying factors that shaped this unprecedented outbreak. While championing the heroic efforts of local communities and aid workers in halting the spread of the disease, the contributors also reveal deep structural problems in both the countries and humanitarian agencies involved, which hampered the efforts to contain the epidemic. Alarming, they show that little has been learned from these events, with health provision remaining underfunded and poorly equipped to deal with future outbreaks. Such issues, they argue, reflect the wider challenges we face in tackling epidemic disease in an increasingly interconnected world. Intellectual Property Issues in Life Sciences Chetan Keswani, Cristina Possas, 2024-11-15 Intellectual Property Issues in Life Sciences: Disputes and Controversies highlights emerging legal, social, and regulatory issues pertaining to various areas of life sciences. Patents occupy a prominent position in the innovation systems in the life sciences, but to what extent they support or hinder innovation is widely disputed. Life science is a broad subject including agriculture, ecology, microbiology, plant and animal sciences, health, and diseases, biotechnology, etc. However, despite the broad applications of biotechnology and molecular biology techniques, profits on investments are surprisingly low. Thus, it is vitally important for universities, public research organizations, and private enterprises to protect their innovations. There are vast differences of opinion on patentability of living organisms, which are largely barred from patent protection. However, mind sets are rapidly shifting, and IP issues in life sciences are receiving increasing attention. To compete with progressive bio-based economies, the developing countries are amending their IP laws to encourage investment. An effort has been made to avoid considering policy in isolation, but rather to emphasize the interplay between the policy mix, the wider institutional setting, market forces, and system organization solutions. Both empirical and conceptual chapters are included to bring them together and to yield facts and interpretations for the readers. This book presents expert opinions by frontier academicians, researchers, and attorneys on the recent challenges in the rapidly evolving life science industry. The present book offers comprehensive knowledge on the contemporary issues in life sciences to a wide range of audiences, including students, scholars, researchers, legal practitioners, policymakers, and others interested in emerging intellectual property issues. Features: The only compilation available on the contemporary intellectual property issues in life sciences in the post-COVID era. Focuses on the commercial, regulatory, bioethical, and socio-legal implications of patents in life sciences. Describes an integrated approach for sustained innovations in various areas of life sciences. Discusses the recent IP controversies in a pan-global context. Presents viewpoints to front-line practitioners, viz. attorneys, researchers, etc. Rethinking Research Methods in an Age of Digital Journalism Michael

Karlsson, Helle Sjøvaag, 2018-10-18 The digital infrastructure of media production dissemination and consumption is becoming increasingly complex presenting the challenge of how we should research the digital journalism environment Digital journalism takes many forms we therefore need to revise improve adjust and even invent methods to understand emerging forms of journalism In this book scholars at the forefront of methodological innovations in digital journalism research share their insights on how to collect process and analyse the diverse expressions of digital journalism including online news search results hyperlinks and social media posts As digital journalism content often comes in the form of big data many of these new approaches depart from the traditional methods used in media research in significant ways As we move towards new ways of understanding digital journalism the methods developed for such purposes also need to be grounded in scientific rigour This book aims to share some of the emerging processes by which these methods tools and approaches are designed implemented and validated As such this book not only constitutes a benchmark for thinking about research methods in digital journalism it also provides an entry point for graduate students and seasoned scholars aiming to do research on digital journalism This book was originally published as a special issue of Digital Journalism

Food Security and the Modernisation Pathway in China Marie-Hélène Schwoob, 2018-01-26 This book aims at providing students experts and practitioners with a detailed overview of agricultural and food security issues in China analyzed through the lenses of a multidisciplinary approach that enables to fully grasp the current socio political challenges and lock ins of agricultural transformation towards more sustainable practices Confronted to a running decrease and degradation of its resources and rapidly evolving food habits China became a net importer of food in 2004 and its agricultural balance has since become heavier every day Beyond providing a comprehensive overview of these stakes this book also presents consistent and original first hand research material collected by the author during months of fieldwork in China in the countryside and from various economic and political circles Conclusions drawn from this often difficult to access fieldwork shed light on the whole galaxy of public and private stakeholders taking part in agricultural modernization in China on their interests and on the patterns of power that underlie the development and implementation of agricultural policies

The Horn Engaging the Gulf Aleksí Ylönen, 2023-12-28 This book discusses theoretical perspectives of analyzing the relations between the states and non state actors in the Horn of Africa and their counterparts in the Persian Gulf and the Middle East Crucially these relations are examined primarily from the perspective of the diplomatic economic and strategic agency of the African states and societal actors Here domestic political dynamics and local power play a significant role Aleksí Ylönen provides a historically informed investigation of recent relations that involve the Gulf States and Türkiye's resurgent interest in the Horn Africa The analysis focuses on the post Arab Spring period following the Iran nuclear deal and the war in Yemen Featuring case studies from Ethiopia Somalia and Eritrea which highlight engagements of the Horn state and societal actors primarily with the Gulf States and Türkiye the study provides an empirical analysis of the interactions and connections between the two regions
