Operations Research and Environmental Management Carlo Carraro,Alain Haurie,2012-12-06 The activities of the Fondazione ENI Enrico Mattei cover a broad spectrum of research topics ranging from economics to engineering from environmental management at the industry or regional level to basic mathematical modelling research It is the combination of the activities on these last two topics that led the Fondazione to organise with the University of Geneva a work shop where operation research tools were designed with the aim to provide national and local policy makers with appropriate analytical and policy instruments for environmental management In the recent past attention has often been devoted to global environmental issues in which the level of policy making is either international through multi country agreements on emission control or national when environmental policies are designed to control domestic pollution Many environmental problems however have a local or regional dimension Even when their dimension is global e g in the case of the greenhouse gas effect relevant decisions on emission control such as the adoption of energy saving utilities are taken at the local level In many countries the current legislation imposes the local authorities to prepare plans and adopt measures to control energy consumption or to reduce waste of natural resources It is therefore important to analyze the way in which local or regional authorities optimise their environmental management

Breeding for robustness in cattle Marija Klopčič,Reinhard Reents,Jan Philipsson,Abele Kuipers,2023-09-04 The past decade has revealed unfavourable trends in e g fertility udder health and locomotion in some major dairy cattle breeds due to a large increase in production and insufficient consideration of functional traits in the breeding goals Such unfavourable trends in some functional traits increase costs Additionally the enlargement of herds leads to less available labour time per individual cow This asks for cows that are easy to handle At the same time society is demanding a higher welfare standard of animals These contradicting developments have increased the desire for so called more robust animals Robustness can be defined as the ability to maintain homeostasis in commonly accepted and sustainable herds of the near future or the ability of the cow to function well in the environment she lives in as well as in a wide range of climates and production systems This book contains a series of articles 26 dealing with the concept of robustness including aspects like evolution genetics environment animal health and welfare and integrity Besides the major functional traits also the links to energy balance hot climatic conditions and the attitude and input of stakeholders towards robustness as part of the breeding program are discussed This book is the first attempt to summarise the available knowledge concerning this topic in cattle making this book unique The contributions are from authors of 16 countries from all over the world However the focus is presently on farm animal level while in future robustness of the whole production system may also require additional attention
