P Wong, Lok Sang Ho, Richard Gregory Cowden, Claude-Hélène Mayer, Fan Yang, 2023-10-24 New developments in positive psychology have evolved into the 2nd and 3rd waves going beyond the individual and positive focus towards complex systems multi cultures and the existential positive psychology of transcending suffering The present project aims at developing a general theory of well being that integrates all the above changes as the new frontier of positive psychology At a time when humanity is threatened by all kinds of existential crises from climate change to nuclear war from ideological polarization to a widening income gap we need to develop a big picture theoretical framework showing that happiness is not just for those living in peace and prosperity but also for those struggling in dire poverty and war ravaged countries like Ukraine not just for the self but also for others not just for the present but also for future generations This broader approach towards wellbeing opens up new vistas for research and interventions      Research on Emotion and Learning: Contributions from Latin America Camilo Hurtado-Parrado, Carlos Gantiva, Leonardo A. Ortega, Alexander Gómez-A, Lucas Cuenya, Javier Leonardo Rico, 2020-05-11 Latin America has increased its share of world scientific publications by nearly twofold during the last two decades approximately from 2 to 4% Despite this positive trend the scholarly impact of scientific research produced in the region measured in terms of citation rate remains low Two interrelated factors that contribute to this situation is that most research groups tend to work in isolation or in local sporadic collaboration and results are often published in journals that are not indexed in major citation databases e.g. SCOPUS or Web of Science. Ultimately part of Latin American high quality research seems to remain hidden from the rest of the world. Over the last decades an important number of Latin American scientists have developed fruitful research agendas on questions on learning and emotion focusing on basic and/or translational research with humans and other animal models and implementing diverse methodologies. Notwithstanding the important contributions of these research programs Latin American research on emotion and learning has followed the overall trend of other research fields throughout the region, namely remaining partially hidden from the large scientific community of the world. This Research Topic aimed to engage researchers from Latin America to share their empirical and conceptual work on learning and emotion. Ultimately this effort was expected to strengthen and integrate our regional community of experts, enhance global networking and establish new challenges and developments for future investigation.

Individual's Mechanics, Movement and Kinematics Post-Stroke Yih-Kuen Jan, Veronica Cimolin, 2024-06-12. Disability after stroke is a major burden on society due to its high incidence and prevalence. Among the priorities of rehabilitation programs stroke rehabilitation aims to regain independence and improve patients' quality of life. Dynamic balance, falls prevention and upper limb recovery are essential features for the clinical management of hemiparetic patients. To optimize movement recovery after stroke it is essential to select multilevel outcome measures for interpretation of motor recovery and clinical decision making. In this context the assessment of movement by means of quantitative movement analysis in hemiparetic post stroke patients is key to planning rehabilitative intervention. Kinematic analysis facilitates interpreting the extent and mechanisms of motor restoration and it has been increasingly applied in neurological research.
