Marking Matric Vijay Reddy, 2006 The past ten years in South Africa has seen many changes in education the creation of a single department of education common examinations for all learners in public schools in the country a new outcomes based education curriculum which was introduced to learners in the general education and training phase since 1998 and will be introduced to the further education and training phase from 2006 To evaluate the success of these changes South African researchers still use the indicator of student achievement The matriculation examination is the visible high profile and public performance indicator Every year parents learners teachers researchers government officials policymakers and the general public get involved in the debate around the matric examination with the most frequently asked questions being Did the pass rate go up Are standards dropping Are the results real or have they been manipulated How is our education system doing Are we meeting the development goals What should the matriculation examination of the future look like participants from government national and provincial

The Globalisation of Urban Governance Helmut Philipp Aust, Anél du Plessis, 2018-12-07 The adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs by the UN General Assembly in 2015 represents the latest attempt by the international community to live up to the challenges of a planet that is out of control Sustainable Development Goal 11 envisages inclusive safe resilient and sustainable cities around the world by the year 2030 This globally agreed vision is part of a trend in international policy toward good urban governance and now awaits implementation Fourteen original contributions collectively examine how this global vision has been developed on a conceptual level how it plays out in various areas of global urban governance and how it is implemented in varying local contexts The overarching hypothesis presented herein is that SDG 11 proves that local governance is recognised as an autonomous yet interrelated part of the global pursuit of sustainable development The volume analyses three core questions How have the normative ideals set forth in SDG 11 been developed What are the meanings of the four sub goals of SDG 11 and how do these relate to each other What does SDG 11 imply for urban law and governance in the domestic context and how are local processes of urban governance internationalised The Globalisation of Urban Governance makes an important scholarly contribution by linking the narrative on globalisation of good urban governance in various social sciences with legal discourse It considers global governance and connects the existing debate about cities and their place in global governance with some of the most pertinent questions that lawyers face today

The Institutionalisation of Disaster Risk Reduction Gideon van Riet, 2016-12-01 The past three decades have seen a global shift in disaster management from an event driven response to a could be risk management approach Disaster risk reduction DRR has become entrenched as a dominant paradigm within the field of disaster management More than a decade after adopting DRR legislation in South Africa there remains a dearth of evidence that this has translated into substantive action This book examines the institutionalisation of DRR in South Africa conceived of as a political economy of knowledge production Using a critical theory approach the book does not consider why DRR is failing but instead asks why DRR As such it explores possibilities beyond DRR s narrow optic and offers new insights into disaster management through the lens of South Africa This is valuable reading for graduate students and academics working in disaster studies geography public policy and development post development studies as well as policy makers South African journal of library and information science ,2005

Learning as Development Daniel A. Wagner,2025-11-25 In this groundbreaking second edition of Learning as Development Daniel A Wagner transforms our understanding of international development by positioning learning at its core Through a compelling global lens Wagner demonstrates how education shapes both individual destinies and national futures with real consequences for income social mobility health and well being This new edition provides timely perspectives on education s role in an increasingly interconnected and challenged world The work traces international development from pre colonial times to today s learning equity movement explores how people learn across different cultures and contexts examines the intersection of education with critical global challenges including climate change migration civil conflict and new technologies and presents cutting edge research through vivid context rich examples Essential reading for students practitioners and policymakers in education human development sociology anthropology and global development Wagner s analysis offers fresh insights into human potential for those who care about improving the lives of people across the globe

Breathing Life Into Fossils Travis Rayne Pickering,Kathy Diane Schick,Nicholas Patrick Toth,2007 Taphonomy the study of the processes leading to the fossilization of organic remains is one of the most important avenues of inquiry in human origins research Breathing Life into Fossils is a major contribution to taphonomic studies in paleoanthropology and natural history This book emanates from a Stone Age Institute conference celebrating the life and career of naturalist Bob Brain a pioneer in bringing taphonomic perspectives to human evolutionary studies Contributions by leading researchers provide a state of the art look at the maturing field of taphonomy and the unique perspectives it provides to research into human origins This important volume reveals approaches taken to the study of bone accumulations at prehistoric sites in Africa Eurasia and America and provides fascinating insights into patterns produced by carnivores by hunter gatherers and by our human ancestors

the fabric of cities and people's sense of identity and agency and are reflected in physical features architecture and urban planning The question of divided cities represents a complex and multistranded urban Ecology at once both social and spatial it cannot be limited to a single science or discipline such as social or spatial fields This suggests integrated and cross disciplinary understandings as well as integrated or parallel approaches and solutions Urban ecologies of division manifest in multiple forms One of their most palpable expressions is conflict with parallels around the world and often with correlations in the spatial fabric Violence in such contexts is often a surface expression of deeper socio economic or ideological differences Whether as a result of intervention by authority or by dissent between groups a divided city inevitably becomes a place of conflict in various forms and intensity eroding the joy of living and sense of collective belonging to the detriment of all In effect it erodes the collective advantage of being part of a more unified society A city exists in collections of social structures which mutually form a society A divided city implies divided social structures and in consequence a divided society The papers compiled in this book present many case studies of divided cities discussing the different causes of divisions and their effects on societies Some of the causes can be linked to conflicts wars colonialism or legislative political systems In response to the serious challenges resulting from these divisions the book aims to provide opportunities for new approaches and possibilities for new interventions and solutions making it significant to urban planners architects and policymakers
