Life Orientation Paper November:

Beyond Cutting Edge? Paul C. Heidebrecht, 2014-03-10 A quick scan of any newsstand is enough to confirm the widespread preoccupation with technological change As a myriad of articles and advertisements demonstrate not only are we preoccupied with technology but we are bombarded with numerous reminders that the cutting edge is in constant motion Most often the underlying assumption of Christians is that we have no choice but to find ways to cope with the latest and greatest Indeed it is often assumed that the church has no choice but to find ways to cope with its new technological context This book does not make the same assumptions Building on the work of Mennonite theologian John Howard Yoder it argues that the practices of the church make it possible for Christians to conscientiously engage technology This happens when we recognize that marks of the church such as patience vulnerability and servanthood can put technological ideals such as speed control and efficiency in their proper place In the course of grappling with three examples of morally formative technologies automobiles genetically modified food and the Internet this book goes beyond Yoder s thought by emphasizing that the church also plays a crucial role in our moral formation
