The research began with an extensive literature review and creation of an information base and continued with the writing of a series of papers on methodological issues and the preparation of 14 in depth case studies on different types of innovations. The results of these activities were used to prepare a set of training materials for intensive training courses. The exchange of individual university experiences in managerial innovations in these training courses provided an additional knowledge base for IIEP. This book attempts to synthesize all these results from the research and training programs. The book's sections are:
