

IRAC: Jolly Trolley
Danielle A. Adams
Feb. 11, 2015

- Issue: Is Benjamin's employer, the Jolly Trolley Co., liable for Benjamin's injuries? Is the Jolly Trolley Co. liable for Benjamin's 4 months unpaid wages?
- Facts: Benjamin was a driver and tour guide with Jolly Trolley Co. His salary was $1200 a month. Benjamin took his friends on a tour during off-duty hours last July. During the tour, Benjamin lost control of the trolley, and it smashed into a building. The trolley was destroyed, and Benjamin was injured. Jolly Trolley fired him and then sued Benjamin for destruction of the trolley. Benjamin believes the trolley malfunctioned and wants to sue Jolly Trolley for his injuries as well as for his last four months' wages, which were not paid.
- Rule of Law: 1.) Code, § 114-102: In order for an injury to be compensable under the terms of the Workmen's Compensation Act, it must have been occasioned "by accident arising out of and in the course of the employment."
2.) OCGA § 34-9-17 is as follows: "Workmen's compensation shall not be allowed for an injury or death due to the employee's willful misconduct..."
- Analysis: In the instant case, Benjamin was in commission of a traffic violation when he destroyed property at the time of the accident and his injury a direct result therein. Benjamin was not performing duties pursuant to his employment at the time of the accident. In New Amsterdam Cas. Co. v. Summrell, an injury arises "in the course of employment," within the meaning of the Workmen's Compensation Act, when it occurs within the period of the employment, at a place where the employee reasonably may be in the performance of his duties, and while he is fulfilling those duties or engaged in doing something incidental thereto. An accident arises "out of" the employment, when it arises because of it, as when the employment is a contributing proximate cause. This and the condition stated above must concur before the act can apply. New Amsterdam Cas. Co. v. Summrell, 30 Ga. App. 682, 118 S.E. 786 (1923). In Aetna Cas. & Sur. Co. v. Horne, the court upheld a denial of benefits from the claimant because "in this kind of a case the burden is on the claimant to prove that the injury for which compensation is sought arose out of and in the course of the employment before compensation can be awarded legally to the claimant. Aetna Cas. & Sur. Co. v. Horne, 71 Ga. App. 569, 31 S.E.2d 421, 422 (1944). Benjamin willfully violated

How to Write Law Essays and Exams S. I. Strong, 2018 How to Write Law Essays and Exams provides law students with a practical and proven method of analysing and answering essay and exam questions The book focuses on those questions that give students the most trouble namely problem questions but its techniques are equally applicable to other types of essays In addition to providing a framework for analysing and writing law essays the book teaches students how to identify relevant legal authorities distinguish and harmonise conflicting legal precedents and evaluate the applicability of the law to the facts of the question at hand The book also contains specific law related revision techniques and general writing tips Designed for law students of all levels including those on A level university conversion and vocational courses the text helps students understand their substantive courses while at the same time teaching vital writing and analytical skills Online Resources The book is accompanied by online resources including a case breakdown to help students with reading cases frequently asked questions and some tips on citation styles and conventions

Law School Exams Charles R. Calleros, 2007 Well written and highly accessible this concise paperback guides law students step by step through procedures that will help them take exams successfully the author's style is accessible and reassuring recognizing that law students operate under severe time constraints he makes his points clearly and concisely starting with creative examples and illustrations in familiar nonlegal contexts the author introduces students to new concepts by analogy and then advances to more complex legal examples exercises and practice exams with a focus on essay questions and model answers help students identify their strengths and weaknesses plan strategies and organize their efforts the author addresses techniques for maximizing scores on several types of essay questions as well as on multiple choice and other objective questions the author helps students understand why the typical law school essay question requires a balanced analysis with arguments for both sides rather than identification of a clear answer assignments and exercises facilitate active learning In addition to teaching students analysis and exam taking skills Law School Exams Preparing and Writing to Win addresses exam anxiety with a helpful positive perspective The author helps students understand that a small degree of anxiety can serve as a productive motivator helps students learn how to reduce anxiety to a productive level by placing exams into proper perspective by preparing thoroughly and by adopting stress management techniques such as stretching meditation or motivational music

The Properties of Star-Forming Galaxies at $z \sim 2$ Dawn Erb, 2005 We study the properties of star forming galaxies at redshift $z \sim 2$ an era in which a substantial fraction of the stellar mass in the universe formed Using 114 near IR spectra of the H alpha and N II emission lines and model spectral energy distributions fit to rest frame UV through IR photometry we examine the galaxies star formation properties dynamical masses and velocity dispersions spatially resolved kinematics outflow properties and metallicities as a function of stellar mass and age While the stellar masses of the galaxies in our sample vary by a factor of 500 dynamical masses from H alpha velocity dispersions and indirect estimates of gas masses imply that the variation of stellar mass is due as much to the evolution of the stellar population and the conversion of gas into stars as to intrinsic differences in the total masses of the galaxies About 10% of the galaxies are apparently young starbursts with high gas fractions caught just as they have begun to convert large amounts of gas into stars Using the N II H alpha ratio of composite spectra to estimate the average oxygen abundance we find a monotonic increase in metallicity with stellar mass From the estimated gas fractions we conclude that the observed mass metallicity relation is primarily driven by the increase in metallicity as gas is converted to stars The picture that emerges is of galaxies with a broad range in stellar population properties from young galaxies with ages of a few tens of Myr stellar masses $M \sim 10^9 M_{\odot}$ and metallicities $Z \sim 0.1 Z_{\odot}$ to massive objects with $M \sim 10^{11} M_{\odot}$ $Z \sim Z_{\odot}$ and ages as old as the universe allows All however are rapidly star forming power galactic scale outflows and have masses in gas and stars of at least $10^{10} M_{\odot}$ in keeping with their likely role as the progenitors of elliptical galaxies IRAC, 1983 INDIAN BANKING Prof. Sri Hari

Astronomy and Astrophysics ,2009 At the Edge of the Universe: Latest Results from the Deepest Astronomical Surveys José Afonso,2007 This volume contains the proceedings of an international conference held in October 2006 in Sintra Portugal on the recent results from the deepest astronomical observations of the Universe Focused on the latest observational developments in galaxy and structure formation and evolution as given by the use of the most powerful telescopes working throughout the electromagnetic spectrum the conference assembled some of the most active researchers in the field The ninety eight contributions included in this volume represent the state of the art of research covering such topics as the first billion years of galaxy formation probing the reionization epoch obscured galaxy populations and their role in galaxy evolution early AGN activity the star formation and mass assembly history of the Universe massive galaxies at high redshift and the metallicity history of galaxies A particular emphasis is given to the unification of the different views given by observations at different wavelengths making the books a valuable reference for researchers and graduate students interested in the exploration of the distant universe publisher's website Cosmic Frontiers Nigel Metcalfe,Thomas Shanks,2007 These proceedings of an international conference held during July August 2006 in Durham UK provide a comprehensive up to date overview of recent observational breakthroughs from the present generation of astronomical surveys and what they imply for theories of galaxy formation and cosmology Starting in the early Universe with the observations of the microwave background the evidence for the standard cosmological model provided by the WMAP satellite is reviewed It is the exquisite balance between the impressive fit to the microwave background temperature fluctuations provided by the standard model and its requirements for finely tuned dark energy and a still undetected Cold Dark Matter particle that makes this such an exciting moment in cosmology Other pieces of evidence for the standard model are also reviews these include the form of large scale galaxy clustering from the extensive 2dF and SDSS surveys and also the Type Ia supernova Hubble diagram all of which involved heroic astronomical efforts in surveying the sky The conference then looks at the deeper surveys now aimed at understanding the processes of galaxy formation and evolution Here there appears to be considerably less support for the standard model In particular massive early type galaxies appear to be old and also to have been in place at high redshifts This evolutionary behavior does not arise naturally from the standard model and the proceedings review ways of reconciling such observations with theory Thus the 15 invited reviews 29 contributed talks and
