Essays in Honor of William N. Kinnard, Jr. C.F.

Sirmans, Elaine Worzala, 2012-12-06 The first section of the book contains seven original essays arranged in order to coincide with Bill's chronological professional career. These essays cover a wide variety of real estate topics including valuation theory, definition of market value, market analysis, the appraisal process, role of the appraiser as an expert witness, valuation under environmental contamination and international real estate issues. The second section of the book reprints eleven of Bill's most influential papers selected with the help of forty of his colleagues. These articles, written by Bill and various co-authors, represent only a portion of his contributions to real estate theory and practice. They are classics in real estate education. The final section contains personal reflections by colleagues, family and friends of Bill. One of Bill's most influential publications is his classic text Income Property Valuation and is frequently cited in the testimonials. These testimonials provide clear evidence that Bill was an excellent teacher and real estate professional. He truly cared about his students and colleagues and worked hard to move the real estate profession forward.

Commercial Investment Real Estate, 2008 Affordable

Housing as a Profitable Impact Investment Deepiga Vigneswaran, Michael Truebestein, Matthias Daniel Aepli, 2022-08-26

The challenges of affordable housing are manifold. However, this presents an opportunity to private investors, real estate companies and developers. With the growing global trend for impact-based investments, many institutional investors have begun to consider the merits of this asset class. This book examines not only the profitability of these assets but also whether these assets rely on government subsidy. It discusses why investors have become more interested in this product and which investment criteria influence the financial performance of these assets. The authors employed a mixed method approach to collect data at two tiers: first through surveys and afterwards through interviews of 8 firms: 3 publicly listed companies, 3 private equity companies, 1 foundation and 1 state bank across Germany, the United Kingdom and the United States. Investment criteria are analyzed using inferential statistics, specifically the Hierarchical Algorithm Cluster Analysis. The financial characteristics of the companies are examined and compared using descriptive statistics and the qualitative interview output is explored using the thematic Latent Coding Analysis. Furthermore, the book explains how the bond-like nature of affordable housing is a profitable impact investment option and how this strategy is particularly worthwhile for institutional investors. It also describes that profitability of affordable housing products is not dependent on subsidy. Still, affordable housing products supported by government incentives in the United Kingdom and United States are most attractive. The book illustrates six important investment strategies identified by veterans in this field to have an influence on the financial feasibility of affordable housing products.
