Bookbuyers' Reference Book ,1993 Rewriting God Elaine Lindsay,2021-11-22 Women are rarely if ever mentioned in commentaries upon Australian Christianity and spirituality Only exceptional women are recognized as authorities on religious matters Why is this so Does it matter Don t people from the same religious tradition share similar experiences of the divine regardless of their gender Rewriting God asks whether women have been writing about the divine and whether their insights are different from those contained in malestream accounts of Australian Christianity and spirituality An analysis of the writings of popular theologians and religious commentators over the last twenty years suggests that the most popular form of spirituality among Australian theologians is Desert Spirituality An analysis of women s autobiographical writings however suggests that the desert is irrelevant to many women s spiritual experiences This book through a close investigation of the fictions of Thea Astley Elizabeth Jolley and Barbara Hanrahan attempts to posit alternative forms of women s spirituality and to signal ways in which this spirituality is already being expressed From the evidence gathered here it becomes obvious that traditional expressions of Australian Christianity and spirituality are gender specific and that they have functioned to deny women s religious experiences and to silence their claims to equality in the sight and service of the divine It becomes obvious too that women have been developing their own forms of religious expression and that these may be expected to supplant gradually withering images of Desert Spirituality Whether this new imagery will strengthen Australian Christianity or whether it merely marks a decline in the authority of Christianity remains a moot point

British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1975 British Library,1986 The Stranger from Melbourne Paul Adams,1999 Frank Hardy was both a writer and a conspicuous public figure So huge is his public legacy that it often overshadows the literary work and the books he wrote many of which are no longer in print Mr Hardy may not have been the greatest writer Australia has ever produced but he was perhaps one of the greatest literary risk takers and experimenters

This book looks at Hardy the writer and Hardy the public private historical figure from the halcyon days of Australian Communism in the forties to the period following the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in 1968 These years 1944 1975 represent some of the key turning points in Hardy s writing and in particular the significant changes in his relationship to the Communist Party of Australia which are central to understanding his writing University of California Chronicle

,1929 University of California Chronicle University of California, Berkeley,1929 The Writing Or the Sex?, Or, Why You Don't Have to Read Women's Writing to Know It's No Good Dale Spender,1989 This text questions the differences between female and male literature Taking the view that the difference lies not within the writing itself but in the response to the writing the author writes that men have been in charge of according value to literature and that they have found the contributions of their own sex immeasurably superior The author presents evidence for a form of literary criticism which takes account of the exploitative practices of men Australian National Bibliography ,1995
