

3. Marking points

3.1 Marking of lists

This applies to questions requiring a set number of responses, but for which students have provided extra responses. The general principle to be followed in such a situation is that 'right + wrong = wrong'.

Each error / contradiction negates each correct response. So, if the number of error / contradictions equals or exceeds the number of marks available for the question, no marks can be awarded.

However, responses considered to be neutral (indicated as * in example 1) are not penalised.

Example 1: What is the pH of an acidic solution?

[1 mark]

Student	Response	Marks awarded
1	green, 5	0
2	red*, 5	1
3	red*, 8	0

Example 2: Name two planets in the solar system.

[2 marks]

Student	Response	Marks awarded
1	Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune	0

3.2 Marking of extended responses (questions)

For questions requiring an extended response, the whole response is assessed. If a response is incorrect, no marks can be awarded. If the response is correct, all marks can be awarded.

3.3 Marking procedures for calculations

Students should be awarded the marks for each stage of the calculation completed correctly. An incorrectly calculated answer does not prevent the student from being awarded the marks for a correct calculation process, without any working shown.

3.4 Interpretation of 10

Answers using the word 10 should be given credit only if it is clear that the 10 refers to the correct subject.
