IDM Supervision Cal D. Stoltenberg, Brian W. McNeill, 2011-04-27 The third edition of this book is an updated and expanded presentation of the widely used Integrative Developmental Model of Supervision In contrast to other volumes on clinical supervision Stoltenberg and McNeill present a comprehensive time tested and empirically investigated model of supervision rather than a broad summary of other existing or historical approaches In addition to presenting a model of therapist development that spans beginning through advanced training the book integrates theory and research from numerous perspectives including learning cognition and emotion as well as an up to date treatment of research directly addressing the supervision process The model also examines the role of clinical supervision from an evidence based practice perspective and addresses issues of common factors in therapy The impact of cultural issues in supervision and training as well as recent work in a competencies approach to supervision and trainee development are also examined

Supervision Essentials for the Integrative Developmental Model Brian McNeill, Cal D. Stoltenberg, 2015 Some clinicians use a simple master apprentice approach to supervision others utilize tools from their preferred model of psychotherapy In this book Brian McNeill and Cal Stoltenberg offer supervisors and trainees a different approach their integrative developmental model of supervision This empirically tested model incorporates elements of cognitive models schema and skill development interpersonal influence and social intelligence alongside models of human development to create a truly eclectic and time tested approach to clinical supervision The authors model tracks therapists development across all skill levels and theoretical orientations Students and trainees are evaluated across domains of practice that include intervention skills competence assessment techniques individual differences treatment plans and goals and professional ethics among others The authors provide clear guidelines for progression from beginner levels highly motivated trainees who remain highly dependent on the supervisor to more advanced supervisees who are better attuned to individual differences in clients and seek more sophisticated clinical responses all the way to master level therapists The book also offers analyses of the authors supervisory sessions with real clinical trainees including those documented in the companion DVD The Integrative Developmental Model of Supervision
