INTRODUCTION: Members of Class Aves are vertebrates whose body plan is adapted to the requirements of flight.

For example, the skeletal system is lightweight but strong. The flight muscles of the chest make up 15% of the total weight of the bird's body. Birds have extremely high energy requirements because of their higher metabolic rate. The unique air sacs of their respiratory system provide them with a continuous supply of oxygen and help to compensate for the smaller size of their lungs. Birds have unique needs, that include a streamlined, lightweight body, smaller reproductive organs and some are inactive for most of the year. During the breeding season, however, the male and the female reproductive organs increase greatly in size to prepare for the production of offspring.

PURPOSE: In this dissection, you will explore the unique structural features of birds through study of the pigeon.
