Joints are junctions between bones. Although they vary considerably in structure, they can be classified according to the type of tissue that binds the bones together. Thus, the three groups of joints can be identified as (1) fibrous joints, (2) cartilaginous joints, and (3) synovial joints.

Movements occurring at freely movable synovial joints are due to the contractions of skeletal muscles. In each case, the type of movement depends on the kind of joint involved and the way in which the muscles are attached to the bones on either side of the joint.

PURPOSE OF THE EXERCISE

To examine examples of the three types of joints, to identify the major features of these joints, and to review the types of movements produced at synovial joints.

2. identify examples of each type of joint;
3. identify the major features of each type of joint;
4. locate and identify examples of each of the six types of synovial joints;
