Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa

Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities. Rather, durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions. This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly. Breaking a Rainbow, Building a Nation Rekgotsofetse Chikane, 2018-10-01

Breaking a Rainbow Building a Nation is a first hand account of the university protests that gripped South Africa between 2015 and 2017, widely better known as the FeesMustFall. Chikane outlines the nature of student politics in the country before, during and after the emergence of MustFall politics, exploring the political dynamics that informed and drove the student protests and the effect that these MustFall movements have had on the nature of youth politics in the country. Chikane looks at how the current nature of youth politics is different from previous youth upheavals that have defined South Africa, specifically due to the fact that the protests were being led by so-called coconuts who are part of the black elite. Breaking a Rainbow Building a Nation poses the provocative question: can coconuts be trusted with the revolution? Handbook of Research on Administration, Policy, and Leadership in Higher Education Mukerji, Siran, Tripathi, Purnendu, 2016-09-27

The creation of a sustainable and accessible higher education system is a pivotal goal in modern society. Adopting strategic frameworks and innovative techniques allows institutions to achieve this objective. The Handbook of Research on Administration Policy and Leadership in Higher Education is an authoritative reference source for the latest scholarly research on contemporary management issues in educational institutions and presents best practices to improve policies and retain effective governance. Addressing the current state of higher education at an international level, this book is ideally designed for academicians, educational administrators, researchers, and professionals. The New York Times Index, 2002
